gubernatorial nomination to be decided in Tuesday's runoff election. In a brief speech here, Gandy said as governor she would assist local tourism efforts especially in conjunction with the 1984 Louisiana World Exposition in New Orleans and strive to attract non-polluting labor-intensive 'high tech' industries to Mississippi. ## Lack of quorum prevents Bay zoning map action

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Lack of a quorum at a Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission meeting Thursday night prevented any action regarding the city's updated zoning map.

However, three members of the five-man commission informally discussed the new map after an explanation of the proposed document by Jules Lagarde, a Bay architect hired to update the city development guide.

C.C. McDonald, commission president, said, since the board still remains in recess, another meeting will be scheduled at a time when all commissioners can be present.

Commissioners attending the Thursday gathering in addition to McDonald were Clarence Ladner and W. Wilson Webre. Absent members were Joe Marochino and August Scafidi.

Lagarde revealed that he found between 75 and 80 changes to the original city zoning ordinance which was adopted in about 1964.

In addition, he discovered 53 discrepancies in the city's existing zoning map.

The architect asked that the commission approve the map soon so he could be issued a $5,850 payment for the phase two portion of the project (completion of the new zoning map).

But Ladner said approval should be withheld until a proposed new beachfront zoning ordinance is finalized.

Lagarde explained the new hand color-coded map could be accepted as the official map, changed to reflect the amendments and utilized to print a final zoning guide.

Also attending the meeting were attorney Gerald Gex of Bay St. Louis; at-

Eight burglaries reported

Waveland police nab three after breakins

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Waveland Police Department has apparently solved eight recent burglaries in the arrests of two men and a boy.

Investigator Robert (Poochy) Tartavouille of the department reported the two men are jailed and the 17-year-old is in custody of the Hancock County Youth Court.

Jerry A. Morris, 25, of 104 Central Ave. in Waveland is being held without bond at Hancock Jail in Bay St. Louis on three counts of burglary and a Virginia parole violation, Tartavouille said.

The investigator reported Morris, represented by County Public Defender William Frisbie of Bay St. Louis, Wednesday waived a preliminary hearing in City Court in favor of an appearance before the Hancock Circuit Court in the October term.

Morris is charged in the theft of jewelry, a television and food valued at $3,000 from three Waveland homes and two coffee pots, two flags and coffee from Waveland Elementary School, Tartavouille listed.

All the stolen items except the food were recovered in the arrest, the investigator said.

Michael W. Deputy, 21, also of 104 Central Ave., is being held in the jail in lieu of $7,000 bond and charged with one count of burglary in the Waveland school breakin, Tartavouille reported.

The 17-year-old is charged with four counts of burglary resulting from three house breakins and a Waveland Library theft, the investigator said.

Tartavouille reported the boy apparently broke into the Waveland Library the night of Aug. 12 through a window and evidently took $20 from a cash box.

The youth also apparently heisted food, beer, four fishing rods and reels and clothes from the homes, the investigator said.

All of those items except the food have been recovered, he added.

LAST MINUTE VOTERS—Camil and Karen Dardar, of Waveland, were the last two people to come to the courthouse Saturday to punch in their absentee vote before the noon deadline. They both work in New Orleans and commute. "Sometimes we don't get back in time to vote and that's why we use the absentee ballot way of voting," said Karen. "I feel it's my civic duty to vote. If you don't vote then you don't have the right to criticize the people in government," Karen added.

Also in the office clerk's office to vote Saturday were Douglas Summers and Glen Merano, both of Bay St. Louis. Summers also works in New Orleans. He said he leaves for work at 6:30 in the morning and doesn't get home until 7:30 at night. Merano is a college student at Pearl River Junior College and will be away at school on election day. He is majoring in physical education. (Staff photo by June M. Heydt)

Officials predict Runoff Election will run smoothly

By JUNE M. HEYDT

Election officials expect very few problems at the upcoming second primary election Tuesday, according to Charles Gottschalk, Hancock County Election Commission secretary.

"We examined the comments and complaints from the First Primary and have taken action to correct them," said Gottschalk.

Preventive maintenance has been performed on all 100 voting machines, he said.

During the first primary at the Waveland Community Center precinct, people couldn't punch the hole next to Gene Taylor's name.

"We've taken sample ballots and used them to check out the machines. This time there will be no holes that can't be punched," said Gottschalk.

A rule, broken during the first primary, was campaign workers around the polls. "The balliffs have all been notified that they must keep campaign workers 150 feet from the polls."

People showing up at the wrong precinct was also a problem during the first primary, said Gottschalk. "At one precinct the mother and father of a household were listed at one precinct and their children at another."

Gottschalk noted that the circuit clerk has nothing to do with the election process. He said the duties of the clerk are registration, care, custody and control of the voting machines, and absentee balloting.

Voting machines for the second primary, courthouse precinct, will be set up in the tax assessor's office and in the tax collector's office. People whose last names begin with the letters A through M will vote in the assessor's office and people whose last names begin with the letters N through Z will vote in the tax collector's office.

Jerry Heitzman, circuit clerk, said, "The offices had to be moved because of the lack of space."

Heitzman also noted that during the first primary election circuit court was in session along with the grand jury.

Heitzman said, "Our offices are so small that we had to completely shut down the operations of the clerk's office in order to handle the voting.

"It's like a maze in here when the voting starts and the voters have complained."

Heitzman said this is the first time in the history of Hancock County that we have had circuit court on election day.

"The circuit clerk's office however, will be the point of coordination. If there are any messages from the precincts or other business concerning the polls, it will go through the clerk's office, added Gottschalk.

Joseph H. Benvenutti, chairman of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee, also said he thinks the second primary will run smoothly.

Benvenutti said, "Everybody's got one election experience under the belt." Concerning the precincts, he added, "At least a lot of people will know where to go to vote this time."

Benvenutti says he doesn't think the turnout will be as great as it was for the first primary. However, he added, "There are a couple of heated races in this election that might bring the people out to vote, for example, the coronor's race, and the close race for district attorney."

Gottschalk commented that the state maintains that the primaries are not elections. "The attorney general said nobody has ever been elected in a primary."

The primaries are for the two parties to elect who they want to run in the general election in November, said Gottschalk.

It is too late for Republicans and Democrats to qualify for the election, but Independents have until September 9 to qualify. Gottschalk also added that there are forms and petitions for qualifying and they may be picked up in the circuit clerk's office.

There are several Democratic primary runoffs in Hancock County; and six district offices being contested.

The electors of all but two precincts in Hancock County as well as some from Harrison, and Jackson Counties will settle a runoff between Earl E. (Buck) Ladner and Gene Taylor for the new office of State Senator, District 46.

The electors of Leetown and Crane Creek as well as some from Pearl River and Stone Counties will vote between Larry L. Albritton and Martin T. Smith, incumbent, for the position of State Senator in District 47.

The runoff election for State Representative District 106 between Curtis Holston and Wade O. Smith, incumbent, will have electors from Standard, Crane Creek, Leetown, and Flat Top precincts as well as parts of Harrison, Pearl River, and Stone Counties.

The district attorney's position is being sought by Cono Caranna and incumbent Albert Nacaise in Hancock, Harrison and Stone Counties.

Carl J. Bandaret Jr., 69, two-term incumbent county coroner, will face Harold J. Stiglet Sr., 56. Stiglet received 3,665 votes in the Aug. 2 primary while Bandaret had 3,761.

Incumbent District One supervisor, Bert Courge, 42, is challenged by Robert B. Peterson Jr. Courge received 853 votes and Peterson took 532.

Alton A. (Dolph) Kellar, 63, a six term veteran as supervisor, District Two, is being challenged by Ronald F.

Top city, county leaders to discuss land gift offer

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock County government heads will meet with a local attorney to discuss a proposed property donation to those entities for construction of office buildings.

John F. Auderer, a Waveland businessman, is offering through his attorney, Nicholas (Mac) Haas of Bay St. Louis, some 16 acres of property in Waveland north of US-90 to the entities for new office buildings.

Acceptance of at least one of three conditions of the Auderer donation would result in moving the County Courthouse from Bay St. Louis to Waveland.

The businessman is giving away the property in return for assistance in developing his remaining adjacent commercial land.

At a Waveland Board of Aldermen meeting Wednesday night, Haas presented the proposal and Mayor John Longo requested the attorney appear at the next Hancock Regional Wastewater Management District Board of Directors meeting scheduled for 6:30 p.m., Sept. 7.

The board, chaired by Longo, meets at Waveland City Hall.

The wastewater board consists of Longo, Mayor Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis and A.A. (Dolph) Kellar, County Board of Supervisors president.

Longo noted Sept. 7 would be the first gathering of the three and an opportune time for Haas to preliminarily determine the feelings of the entities.

The attorney stated, "I'd be tickled to death to be here."

Haas noted members of the supervisor board and Bay City Council expressed "some interest" in the proposal.

Longo stated, "The City of Waveland would be flattered if the county seat were moved here."

Haas said the county may face more lawsuits if a new jail facility is not constructed soon.

He noted the Waveland property would allow consolidation of governments or agencies which would save taxpayer dollars and the availability of land for future expansions.

Longo stated, "We want to do the best thing for the people. I'm not saying consolidation (of city and county governments) is the answer, but we need new public buildings."

Haas said in a proposed plan to build a new jail and offices for the county tax

Computer illiterates —the new separate and unequal class?

The following article, entitled "Is Our Society Creating A New Separate And Unequal Class?" by David F. Linowes, Boeschstein professor of political economy and public policy at the University of Illinois, former chairman of the United States Privacy Protection Commission and of the Federal Commission of Fiscal Accountability of the Nation's Energy Resources in Washington, D.C. and presently adviser to the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control, is provided to The Sea Coast Echo by Public Research Syndicated of Claremont, Calif.

By DAVID F. LINOWES
The world is undergoing a revolution at least as profound and widespread as that brought on by the invention of the printing press.

Ominously, there is a general lack of awareness on the part of American government, business, and academic leaders concerning the social and political implications and the inherent problems of this revolution.

Every five or six years over the past three decades, a new generation of computer components and equipment has appeared, which has increased processing speed and reliability of computers while reducing physical size and cost. Computing capacity that cost $1,000,000 and occupied an entire room in the 1950s now costs $20 and takes the form of a stamp size silicon chip. Yet it works 100,000 times faster. Computing that required 24 hours then, now it done in less than a minute.

The silicon chip is probably the most important invention in this century. Yet, silicon is the most abundant element on earth, next to oxygen. Scientists speak of recording entire libraries on a silicon chip; of creating factories on a silicon wafer. The possibilities are seemingly limitless.

Yet the new technology brings problems as well. Currently, 28,000,000 people are employed in manufacturing in America. Intelligent computers will take over 25,000,000 of those jobs. What is going to happen to the new millions of unemployed? New jobs will not be found in the service industries or in leisure, research, or white-collar work because in these fields the same revolution is taking place.

Too many policy makers do not seem to appreciate what is happening or grasp the extent of what is coming, and therefore no planning is going on for this major upheaval in society.

The role of the school is also being radically changed by these developments. There is an increasing need for teachers to be "computer literate," and teacher training programs must be adapted accordingly. In the longer term, the whole concept of "going to school" may be obsolete.

If education can be successfully accomplished through set computer programs and terminals, as is now occurring through the PLATO system, why not educate children at home? Home computers today are the fastest growing industry in the United States.

There is not technical barrier to the fulfillment of a complete educational experience in one's own living room. In which case, parents, too, are inextricably involved in the revolution that is currently taking place in the educational systems of the world.

However, a major problem is rapidly developing in the elementary and secondary school systems—namely, the introduction of computer training courses into the classroom has been taking place in predominantly wealthy school districts, with the poor neighborhood schools being left behind.

In our "information society" where computer skills are becoming a prerequisite for a vast number of jobs, this is creating a class of disadvantaged "computer illiterate" children.

A high public policy priority, then, should be to prevent the creation of a generation of underprivileged children who lack the necessary training to compete with their "computer literate" peers in the job markets of tomorrow.

A new underclass of society is evolving, unemployed and unemployable, to make new demands on the already overburdened entitlement programs of government.

Can society—especially government—afford to neglect dealing with the consequences of this rapidly developing phenomenon any longer?

LAMINAR FLOW HOOD

The laminar flow hood in the pharmacy department at Hancock General Hospital insures the aseptic, or infection free, environment necessary for the preparation of intravenous admixtures. These admixtures include hyperalimentation, which is a super dose of the nutrients necessary to sustain life in patients who are too ill to eat. The pharmacy department is also responsible for receiving, dispensing and controlling all medications and intravenous fluids prescribed by physicians for our patients. They have also developed a unit dose drug distribution system designed specifically for our facility. This system insures that all medications prescribed for the patients are individually labeled and packaged for their safety. The responsibilities of the pharmacy department are very important to patient care here at Hancock General, your community hospital that cares, and it is just another way we continue to strive to make sure the people of the area receive the best in patient and health care. ### KENNEDY CENTER

Lilli Palmer portrays Sarah Bernhardt in Ruth Wallf's stage play, "Sarah in America," on "Kennedy Center Tonight" at 10 p.m., Monday, Aug. 29, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

Sarah Bernhardt was the legendary French actress whose stage presence and exotic personality bewitched turn-of-the-century America on nine rigorous cross-country tours.

Hosted by Douglas Fairbanks Jr., "Sarah in America" focuses on Bernhardt's love affair with America, her good humor through the triumphs and travails of grueling coast-to-coast performance schedules and her zest for life despite advancing years of disability.

RE-ELECT CARL BANDERET CORONER

CARL BANDERET: Hancock County coroner for the past eight years.

Retired from LAMANA PANNON FALLO Funeral home in New Orleans, La. after serving 6 years. Also served 21 years in Gulfport Veterans Hospital. Being retired, enables me, as I have in the past 8 years, to devote my full and undivided attention and services, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, to the office of coroner to which you the voters have chosen me to serve you for the 2 past terms.

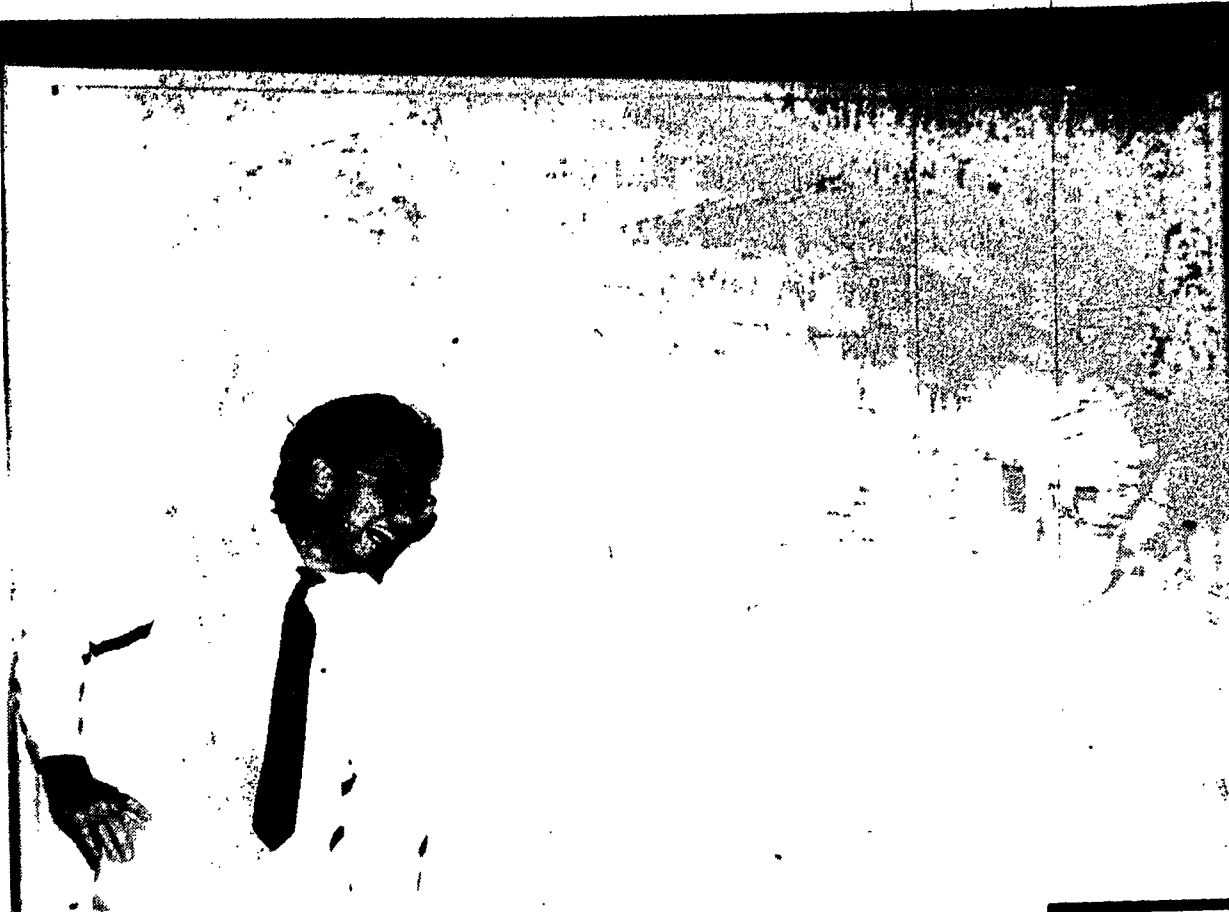

When called to the residence to perform my duty as coroner, I immediately ask the family of the deceased which Funeral Director they would like me to summon. The coroner in this particular part of his service must show no partiality or political persuasion.

I am the first coroner in the State of Mississippi, out of 82 counties to have solved the problem, in case of an emergency, of transport and storing bodies in other counties when autopsies are required by installation of the first county-owned mortuary refrigerator in Mississippi at Hancock General Hospital.

P.S. A Coroner in the State of Mississippi earns $400 a year plus $20 upon each inquest. I thought you would like to know.

Trade, technical schools free handbook available

CAREER TRAINING
Thousands of students each year are deciding against careers with uncertain futures and limited salaries and are choosing more profitable fields that promise to grow rapidly in the next decade.

For many of these students, one of the fastest ways to start toward a promising career is learning specialized skills.

"A lot of students are turning to career schools listed in our free handbook because they want to learn a skill that will be in demand. They are finding that even in hard economic times—such as we have now—most graduates are getting excellent well-paying jobs in a wide variety of industries," according to Henry Herzing, president of the National Association of Trade and Technical Schools (NATTS).

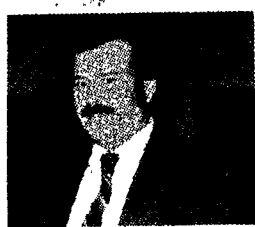

In fact, of the 20 careers that will show the most rapid employment growth in the next decade, 14 will require vocational training.

Information about these NATTS accredited schools that offer this kind of training for tomorrow's careers is available in a free Handbook NATTS (Handbook), 2021 K of Trade and Technical Street, N.W., Washington, Careers and Training from D.C. 20006-1077.

Isn't It Time We Had Some Good News For A Change?

As our chief law enforcement officer, the District Attorney should be an example of a law-abiding citizen. He should work hard against crime. Avoiding even the appearance of wrongdoing.

The District Attorney should take the lead in criminal investigations — instead of being the subject of investigations himself.

We can't do anything about most of the bad news we read in the paper. But we can do something about this.

Here's some good news.

On August 2nd, the majority of the voters of Harrison, Hancock and Stone Counties voted to make a change in the District Attorney's office. And that's some good news.

It means people are tired of putting up with the cloud of doubt that hangs over our community. It's a bad reflection on everybody. And it's unfair to the rest of our honest, hardworking public officials.

A District Attorney we can trust.

Cono Caranna served us well in Vietnam. An Infantry company commander, he won three bronze stars for heroism and a Purple Heart for wounds received in action.

As City Attorney, he's tried some of the toughest cases ever presented in court — and won.

Cono Caranna has worked closely with law enforcement for over 10 years. So, as our District Attorney, he'll make sure law enforcement officers will work with the District Attorney's office — instead of working around it.

Let's elect Cono Caranna.

We're off to a good start. But the District Attorney's race isn't over yet. On Tuesday, August 23rd, let's go to the polls and vote. Let's elect Cono Caranna, District Attorney.

And that'll be some good news — for a change.

Paid political advertisement. Read and approved by Cono Caranna.

Quotables by CUEVAS

The Democratic Run-Off Election will be held Tuesday for all qualified electors.

It is important that everyone will get out and vote, because every vote does count.

Democratic nominees for District Attorney, State Senator, State Representative for several Hancock precincts, two Hancock County Board of Supervisors, Coroner, Justice Court Judge East District, and Constable for three Districts are to be settled on a local level. Then on a state level we have Governor, Secretary of State, and State Auditor of Public Accounts are also to be settled with run-offs.

We realize there will be a General Election in November and there possibly will be some independents to challenge the local Democratic nominees in addition to one Republican for Justice Court Judge in the West District.

The polls are scheduled to be open from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.

It may be a good idea if you check with your neighbors on election day, as some may need transportation to the polls and we feel it is important that everyone votes.

There will be some good news for the poll workers and electors in the courthouse precinct Tuesday as they will not be voting in the hallway like on the first primary.

Persons in the courthouse precinct with last names from A through M will vote entering the back corner door of the courthouse from Court Street into a section of the assessors office.

Those from N through Z will enter the front of the courthouse and vote in the room immediately on the right in a section of the tax collectors office.

We know there was a lot of confusion last time with the voting in the hallway and are glad arrangements were made for a better location this time.

While on the subject of voting, we understand all ballifs for the Tuesday election have been informed to enforce the no campaigning within 150 feet of the doorway to any voting precinct.

By the time election day arrives, usually the majority of electors already know for whom they will vote for in each race.

OFFICE STRESS

Your job is an important - perhaps the most important - part of your life, and what happens in the workplace affects your emotions, habits and general lifestyle.

If work has become a major source of stress in your life, you may need to make some positive changes to remove or at least reduce the stress. Here are some suggestions:

1. Learn to communicate effectively with your boss and your coworkers. For instance, if someone comes to you at 4 p.m. and wants some work done immediately, talk to that person about how you feel about that request.

You may not be able to finish the work by the end of the day. The work may not be important. You may feel too much pressure. Or this person may have made a habit of giving you last-minute assignments.

In any case, if you resent the late-day intrusion, discuss the problem with the person who caused the stress and tell him or her why the request is a problem for you.

2. Learn how to ask for help and how to delegate responsibility.

If you think that only you can do a job the "right" way, you may be adding unnecessary stress to your job by doing more work than you can handle or spending too much time on one task.

If you feel overwhelmed with work, say so and get help, instead of trying to do what you can't. You may have too many responsibilities, or too few, or be unclear about exactly what they are.

Whatever your problem, it won't go away unless you take steps to solve it or to talk it over with someone who can - a coworker or your boss.

3. Work more efficiently.

Are you always coping with emergencies? Take a good look at those emergencies. Are they unavoidable, or did you cause them by doing less important tasks first or devoting too much time to them?

If this is the case, then learn to work more efficiently. Think about what jobs you have to do that day. Make a list and put the most important ones first. Now follow your list. You may not have time to complete the whole list, but the less important tasks can wait.

In fact, you may find that some of them are unnecessary at all.

4. Complete one job before you start another.

Sounds simple, doesn't it? But you can waste valuable time starting one job, then jumping to another, then coming back to the first one.

You may end up handling the same pieces of paper many times, creating confusion in your work and losing your train of thought. And you may not complete even one job - just parts of several of them.

5. Time management can also help you cut down on pressure and stress.

Arrange your work in blocks of time. That is, make all your phone calls at one time, handle your correspondence during another period, schedule appointments one after another.

This way you'll have together jobs of the same type and your work will flow more smoothly. Also find out what time of day you feel best and reserve it for your most difficult tasks. And try to cut down on interruptions!

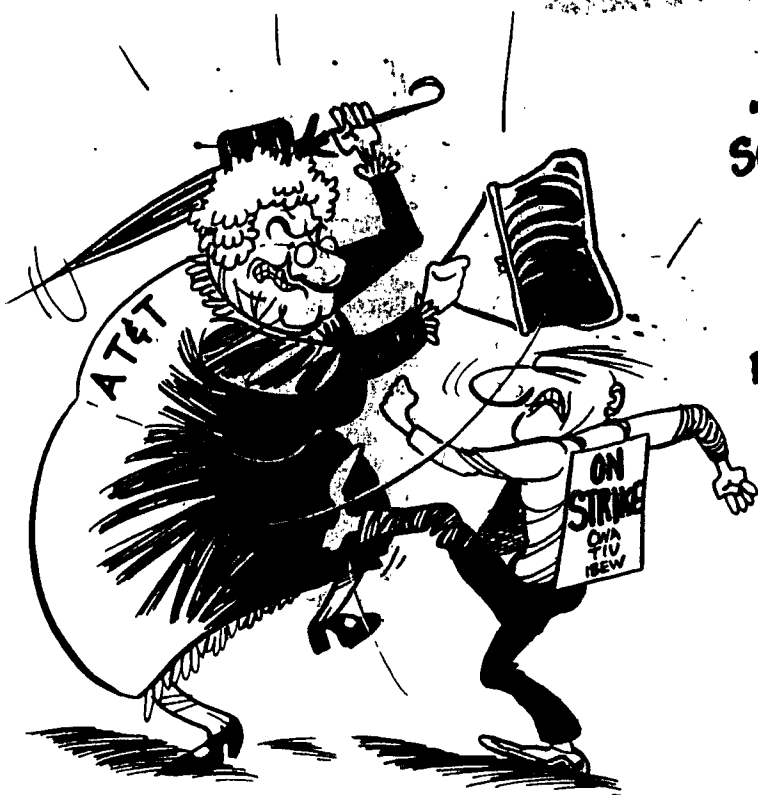

6. Take some time to unwind during the workday.

Take a break. Relax. Just sitting in a quiet place and closing your eyes for a few minutes can help you return to work refreshed. But don't take this break at your desk. Get away from the source of your stress for a few moments. That's the purpose of the break.

If you find that these suggestions are not helping to reduce some of your work-related stress, maybe you should take a good look at your job and yourself. You may decide that it's time to change jobs or even careers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

If it concerns you, it concerns us

Cemetery plots should be maintained year-around, not only for All-Saints Day

August 17, 1983
Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Court Street
Bay St. Louis, MS 39520

Dear Sir:

The purpose of this letter is to express a deep concern with the deplorable condition of St. Mary's Cemetery on Necaise Avenue in Bay St. Louis, MS.

In order to reach a gravesite so that it may be properly maintained, one is required to be a skillful driver, able to maneuver around the deep pot holes in the driveway.

However, the most distressful situation is that of the graves.

Some of these gravesites are so overgrown with grass and weeds that it is truly heartbreaking.

While it is a fact that many of the people buried there no longer have relatives or someone to see that the graves are respectfully cared for, it is also a fact that many do.

It is indeed a shame that the number of gravesites that are kept in good condition is so minute.

It should be an important endeavor to see that the graves of our loved ones are given proper attention on a regular basis and not just once a year - on All Saint's Day.

The cemetery is always a beautiful place on this special occasion. What a pity it does not remain so all year long.

Sincerely,
Vicki M. Arnold

Board officials' remarks 'unjust'

to teachers, parents

August 19, 1983

Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

This letter is in regard to the statement made by the city school board president and board member.

I feel that the statement made by the president was unjust to the teachers and parents of this school system. I feel that we should have officials on the school board who are willing to work with and keep good teachers in our school district.

I believe that the voters should see that these kind of people are not elected nor appointed to public office.

The people who hold these offices have an obligation to the people whom they represent as well as the board that they serve on and to the people who work in the school district.

'Attack of conscience' appreciated by city officials

Aug. 19, 1983
Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

A 20 horsepower Mercury outboard motor was stolen from the City of Bay St. Louis, Sediment pond, near the later part of March 1983.

On Friday morning, the motor was returned.

Police speculate the person who stole the motor returned it after an attack of guilt.

Perhaps the motor had been stored in the trunk of the family car and mom or dad discovered it, asked about it and made the one responsible take it back.

There were two sets of footprints leading to the scene, one large and one small.

The police, the city and the insurance company are all grateful to have the motor returned. We feel that this person has a conscience and we, as a law enforcement agency, are proud of them for returning the motor.

At this date, no charges have been pressed.

Star of David sparkles at Catholic church fair

Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Waveland, MS

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter in behalf of Mr. Louis Smolensky.

I am a newcomer to the Waveland area, and have noted the full cooperation of Mr. Smolensky at many functions, but particularly at the St. Clare Fair.

This gentleman is not a member of the church, he is Jewish, but so very dedicated.

I have to say thanks to a fine gentleman, and all the other very dedicated people connected with the St. Clare Church.

There are many names I could cite but in fairness there are too many names to mention.

I think the citizens of Waveland should be quite proud of the way all people work together.

Sincerely,
Mrs. T. A. Conway

News from the Governor

All persons interested in juvenile justice are invited to attend the Juvenile Justice Seminar Sept. 11-14 at the Biloxi-Hilton Hotel.

Sponsored by the Juvenile Justice Advisory Committee of the Governor's Office of Criminal Justice Planning and Mississippi Judicial College, the seminar will focus upon the serious juvenile offender.

James Robertson, associate justice of the Mississippi Supreme Court, will be the keynote speaker.

A panel will discuss Mississippi's new compulsory attendance law. Moderated by Judge Mills Barbee of DeSoto County, the panel will include Budd Hughes, director of the Governor's Commission for Children and Youth; Walter Wood, director of community services for the Department of Youth Services; Tommy Dyson, supervisor and auditor for the State Department of Audit, and Dr. Ralph Brewer, bureau director, Division of Instructions, State Department of Education.

Mississippi's new drunk driving law will be explained by Charles Marx, assistant attorney general; Henry Wingate, assistant district attorney for Hinds County, will discuss prosecuting the juvenile offender; Mike Featherstone, University of Mississippi professor of law, will speak on abuse and neglect; Ken Wicker, regional supervisor for the Department of Youth Services will discuss youth court intake procedures; Sinclair Lewis dean of instruction at Paul Quinn College (Waco, Texas), will speak on crisis intervention, and Dr. Shirley J. Jones, dean of the University of Southern Mississippi's Graduate School of Social Work, will discuss working with minority clients.

Martha Simmons Gardner, former training officer at the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers Training Academy, and Jerry Westbrook, Columbus juvenile officer, will present a workshop on custody, detention and police discretion.

Dr. Mary Benjamin, director of the Jackson State University's Alcohol and Drug Program, and June Milan, director of the Drug Research and Education Association of Mississippi (DREAM), will conduct a workshop on working with juvenile alcohol and drug users.

Larry Leflore, University of Southern Mississippi professor of criminal justice, Dr. Diane Hamrick, a Charleston (S.C.) Psychotherapy Institute psychologist, will conduct a workshop on learning disabilities, and Dr. Fred Woodall, professor of behavioral science at Delta State University, will present a seminar on techniques of group counseling.

Phillip Wehnert, Jackson County youth court prosecutor, will conduct a workshop on taking confessions from juveniles, and Judge Larry Roberts of Lauderdale County will present a workshop on developing alternatives.

Dr. Beth Burchell, William Carey College's Education Department chairman, will conduct a workshop on conflict resolution, and Ruth Wilson, director of the Governor's Office of Voluntary Citizen Participation, will present a workshop on motivating and utilizing volunteers.

"Juvenile Justice involves many facets of society," said Herbert Terry, director of the Juvenile Justice Division, Governor's Office of Criminal Justice Planning, "and considerable efforts have been made to provide participants of the seminar with a well-rounded picture of this important area of criminal justice."

Further information on the seminar may be obtained by contacting Terry at 354-6041.

WAVELAND LAND GIFT—Reading a proposal at a Wednesday night Waveland Board of Aldermen meeting from his client, John Auderer of Waveland, to donate some 16 acres of land north of US-90 in Waveland to Hancock County and its two cities in return for improvements on adjoining land is Nicholas (Mac) Haas, standing, a Bay St. Louis attorney. Also attending the meeting are, seated from left, Mayor John Longo, Alderman and City Utility Superintendent Herman Yarborough, City Clerk Arcelyn (D) Dastague, and Aldermen Louis Smolensky and Barbara Rappold. Haas noted the proposal calls for either consolidation of local county and city governments, consolidation of Bay-Waveland governments or donating land to the county and Waveland if the cities do not combine. He reported the third proposal would cut the amount of land offered to Waveland (6.5 acres) by half. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Must Report Cash Tips

Workers who receive cash tips should remember that they must report the tips to their employers if they amount to at least $20 a month, a Social Security district spokesperson said recently.

This provision of the law applies to workers such as barbers, beauticians, and waitresses who ordinarily receive cash tips during the course of their employment.

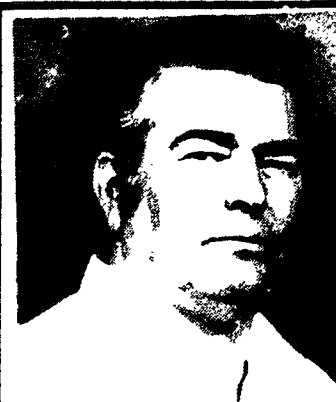

"Social Security credit is earned for tips just as it is earned for regular wages," the representative said. "This can mean increased protection and higher monthly benefits for the worker and his or her family in later life."

"The amount of an individual's benefit is based on earnings in Social Security-covered employment. Therefore, including tips as part of earnings can mean larger benefits."

Additional information about Social Security and cash tips can be obtained from any Social Security office. The address and telephone number of the nearest Social Security office can be found in the telephone directory.

collector-assessor near the present Courthouse that the county will spend $4.5 million when about $8 million would provide a building for all county offices. He speculated the county could probably receive grant funds easier if the entities accept at least one of Auderer's proposals.

Haas noted although Auderer is retaining more valuable US-90 property, the businesses which locate there will pay substantial taxes.

"If the government owned that land, it's not going to pay taxes," he stated.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q. I work for a nonprofit hospital and I am not currently covered by Social Security. Is it true that I will now be joining the Social Security program?

A. Yes. Under a new law, all employees of nonprofit organizations will be mandatorily covered under Social Security, beginning January 1, 1984.

In addition to mandatorily covering employees of nonprofit organizations, changes in the Social Security law now prevent State and local government groups from terminating Social Security coverage. The law also has been changed to permit State and local groups whose coverage has been terminated at some time in the past to be covered again. Finally, beginning January 1, 1984, all new Federal employees, members of the Congress, the President and the Vice-President, and certain other groups of Federal employees will be covered under Social Security.

VOTERS OF BEAT TWO!

THE ISSUES ARE SIMPLE! WHO CAN SERVE YOU BETTER!

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR EXPERIENCE!

✓ DOLPH KELLAR HAS REPRESENTED HIS BEAT FOR 20 YEARS ON THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

✓ FOR 12 OF THOSE YEARS HE HAS SERVED AS PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD.

✓ REALIGNMENT OF BEATS MAKES IT EVEN MORE IMPORTANT TO ELECT A SUPERVISOR WHO CAN START IMMEDIATELY. THIS IS NOT THE TIME TO BREAK IN A NEW MAN.

A WORD OF CAUTION

Some of the answers to the complex problems facing the people of Beat Two have been making the rounds.

¶ Most of these statements, in the form of campaign promises, can be attributed to a lack of knowledge of County government by other candidates.

¶ Nothing would please me more than to put a playground in every area and a sanitary landfill in every Beat.

¶ This is not realistic, and certainly cannot be done within established Federal guidelines, without a substantial increase in taxes.

¶ To promise otherwise is naive.

THE NEXT FOUR YEARS ARE CRITICAL!

—LOOK AT THE RECORD—

- ✓ HANCOCK COUNTY PORT AND HARBOR
- ✓ COUNTY HEALTH CENTER IMPROVEMENTS.
- ✓ STENNIS FIELD
- ✓ SENIOR CITIZENS ACTIVITIES
- ✓ BUCCANEER PARK
- ✓ VO-TECH CENTER
- ✓ BAYOU CADET

The man you choose to represent you for the next four years will face challenges in every area of responsibility.

Funding the many departments of County Government; facing the problems of Legislative reassessment; the uncertainty of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds; and the fact that the Severance Tax on oil and gas revenues in the county is getting smaller, are just a few of the challenges facing the man you elect.

I submit to you that I have performed for 20 years—in good economic times and bad—with honesty, fairness and integrity.

I will not promise you anything that cannot be realistically accomplished. I pledge to you that the pressing problems of Beat Two, in the new area and the old, whether it be roads, bridges, drainage, parks or landfills, are my only priority and my only job.

All my energy, knowledge and experience will be devoted to solving these problems.

As I have worked with the commercial and sports fishermen at Bayou Cadet, I will also work with the fishermen of Pearlinton in that they have public docking facilities at the Public Quay.

Corps of Engineers' map delineating boundaries of proposed Shoreline Park permit area

Corps ecologist clarifies proposed permit boundaries

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A U.S. Army Corps of Engineers spokesman Tuesday reported the Corps is generalizing by designating a proposed general construction permit area as "Shoreline Park."

John A. Winn, supervisory ecologist of the Corps' Mobile office, explained he refers to Shoreline Park as an area which includes Shoreline Park Subdivision, Garber Island, Jourdan River Estates, Jourdan River Subdivision, Lazy River Estates, the Bayou Phillips area and a northwest portion of Waveland.

"We the Corps use the term Shoreline Park for that entire area... The entire area has come to be known as Shoreline Park," he said.

"It is colloquially known as such and we use it as a generic term for the area even though we are not referring to Shoreline Park Subdivision per se," Winn stated.

A map accompanying this report delineates the boundaries for the permit area.

Winn said an exclusive report in the Aug. 11 issue of The Sea Coast Echo in which he appealed for comments regarding the proposed permit fortunately generated a lot of local interest in the Corps' inquiries to the Corps.

"Normally we don't get that kind of response even when we use direct mail to solicit comments of a proposal," he stated.

He reported realtors and property owners have been contacting the Corps for more information about the proposed general permit.

Winn revealed many inquirers are under the impression that all construction in the permit area boundaries must have a permit.

He noted that permits are required in "high marsh" areas where construction is planned.

The Corps official also reported the proposed permit will "facilitate construction" and not "expand jurisdiction" of the agency.

"We're not saying every house or lot in the area is concerned, we're just trying to make things simpler," he stated.

The Corps plans to shorten construction approval time with the new permit.

Winn emphasized the proposal has not yet been approved and he does not yet know positions of state and federal environmental agencies in the matter.

National Safety Council, USM join defensive driving

Last year, traffic accidents accounted for more than 50,000 deaths, nearly 2 million disabling injuries and approximately $12 billion in property damage, according to the National Safety Council.

The Department of Health and Safety Education at the University of Southern Mississippi will be offering a Defensive Driving Course. The course sponsored by the National Safety Council is part of a campaign to reduce the toll of human deaths, human suffering and economic loss due to traffic accidents through the teaching of accident-guidance techniques. In the course, participants will learn how to avoid weather-related accidents, mystery crashes and collisions with other vehicles, pedestrians, cyclists and fixed objects.

The participants will also learn how to deal with the unexpected on open country roads, rush-hour expressways and urban side streets.

Sam Soukup, instructor in the Department of Health and Safety Education at USM, will direct the course.

He has 15 years experience in the safety field and has completed the National Safety Council's instructor course held in Chicago. Soukup is one of very few qualified instructors in the state.

A second part of the Defensive Driving Course is planned in the future as a refresher for the first course offered in the fall. The time and place of this course will be announced at a future date.

The first course will be offered Sept. 29-30 and Nov. 3-4. Each course will be from 2-4 p.m. on the first day and 8 a.m.-4 p.m. on the second day.

Pre-registration is required as enrollment for each course is limited to 30 participants. Registration deadline is Sept. 23 and Oct. 28.

Registration will be held in room 203 of the McCain Graduate Library at 12:30 p.m. on the first day of each course.

Fighting and Winning For A Better Mississippi Future

Attorney General Bill Allain has an action plan to build a better future for Mississippi. His battles against unfair utility rates, against dumping nuclear waste in Mississippi, and against legislators' serving on State boards and commissions have shown the type of Governor Bill Allain will make for Mississippi. He will always stand up for the people.

As your Governor, Bill Allain will fight for:

- Education: Bill Allain will work for a strengthened vocational education system, for an education trust fund, and for better teachers' salaries. He will appoint strong, pro-education people to the new Lay Board of Education.
- Jobs: Bill Allain will set up a job bank and seek new and expanded industry to provide jobs for unemployed Mississippians.
- Law Enforcement: Bill Allain wants more staff in the State Bureau of Narcotics and a drug education program in our schools.
- Farmers: Bill Allain has proposed a low-interest equipment loan program for farmers, processors, and seafood fishermen.
- Fair Utility Rates: Bill Allain's record against unfair utility rates is clear — he won't stand for it. He has already pledged to fight the phone company's plan to double your rates.
- Senior Citizens: Bill Allain will establish a senior citizen discount program with local merchants.

Bill Allain has fought and won for you before. Let's keep him winning for all Mississippians. Vote on August 23 to make Bill Allain your fighting Governor.

Book Review

'Mississippi Memories, Second Servings' is an outstanding new cookbook written exclusively for the Mississippi Division of the American Cancer Society, and is now on sale in Hancock County area retail stores.

The aim of the cookbook is to help make cancer just a Mississippi memory.

Mississippi volunteers from across the state have contributed recipes to make this second edition a native cookbook.

The cookbook, also offers recipes from Mississippi dignitaries, including U.S. senators and representatives, mayors, the governor and others.

The theme of the cookbook is "Mississippi Nostalgia - our culinary legacy."

"Money raised from Mississippi Memories, Second Servings is critical to the 1983 Crusade Against Cancer. Everyone is urged to give a gift that will help make cancer just a Mississippi memory," said Lou Anne Powell of Bay St. Louis, local Cancer Society spokesman.

The cookbook can be obtained for a donation of $7.50 with all proceeds going to programs of cancer control.

Powell added the first edition 'Mississippi Memories' published last year is also available.

For information, call Powell, 467-6085.

THE PAST IS THE PRESENT

..I NEED YOUR VOTE TO MAKE OUR FUTURE BETTER IN BEAT 1.

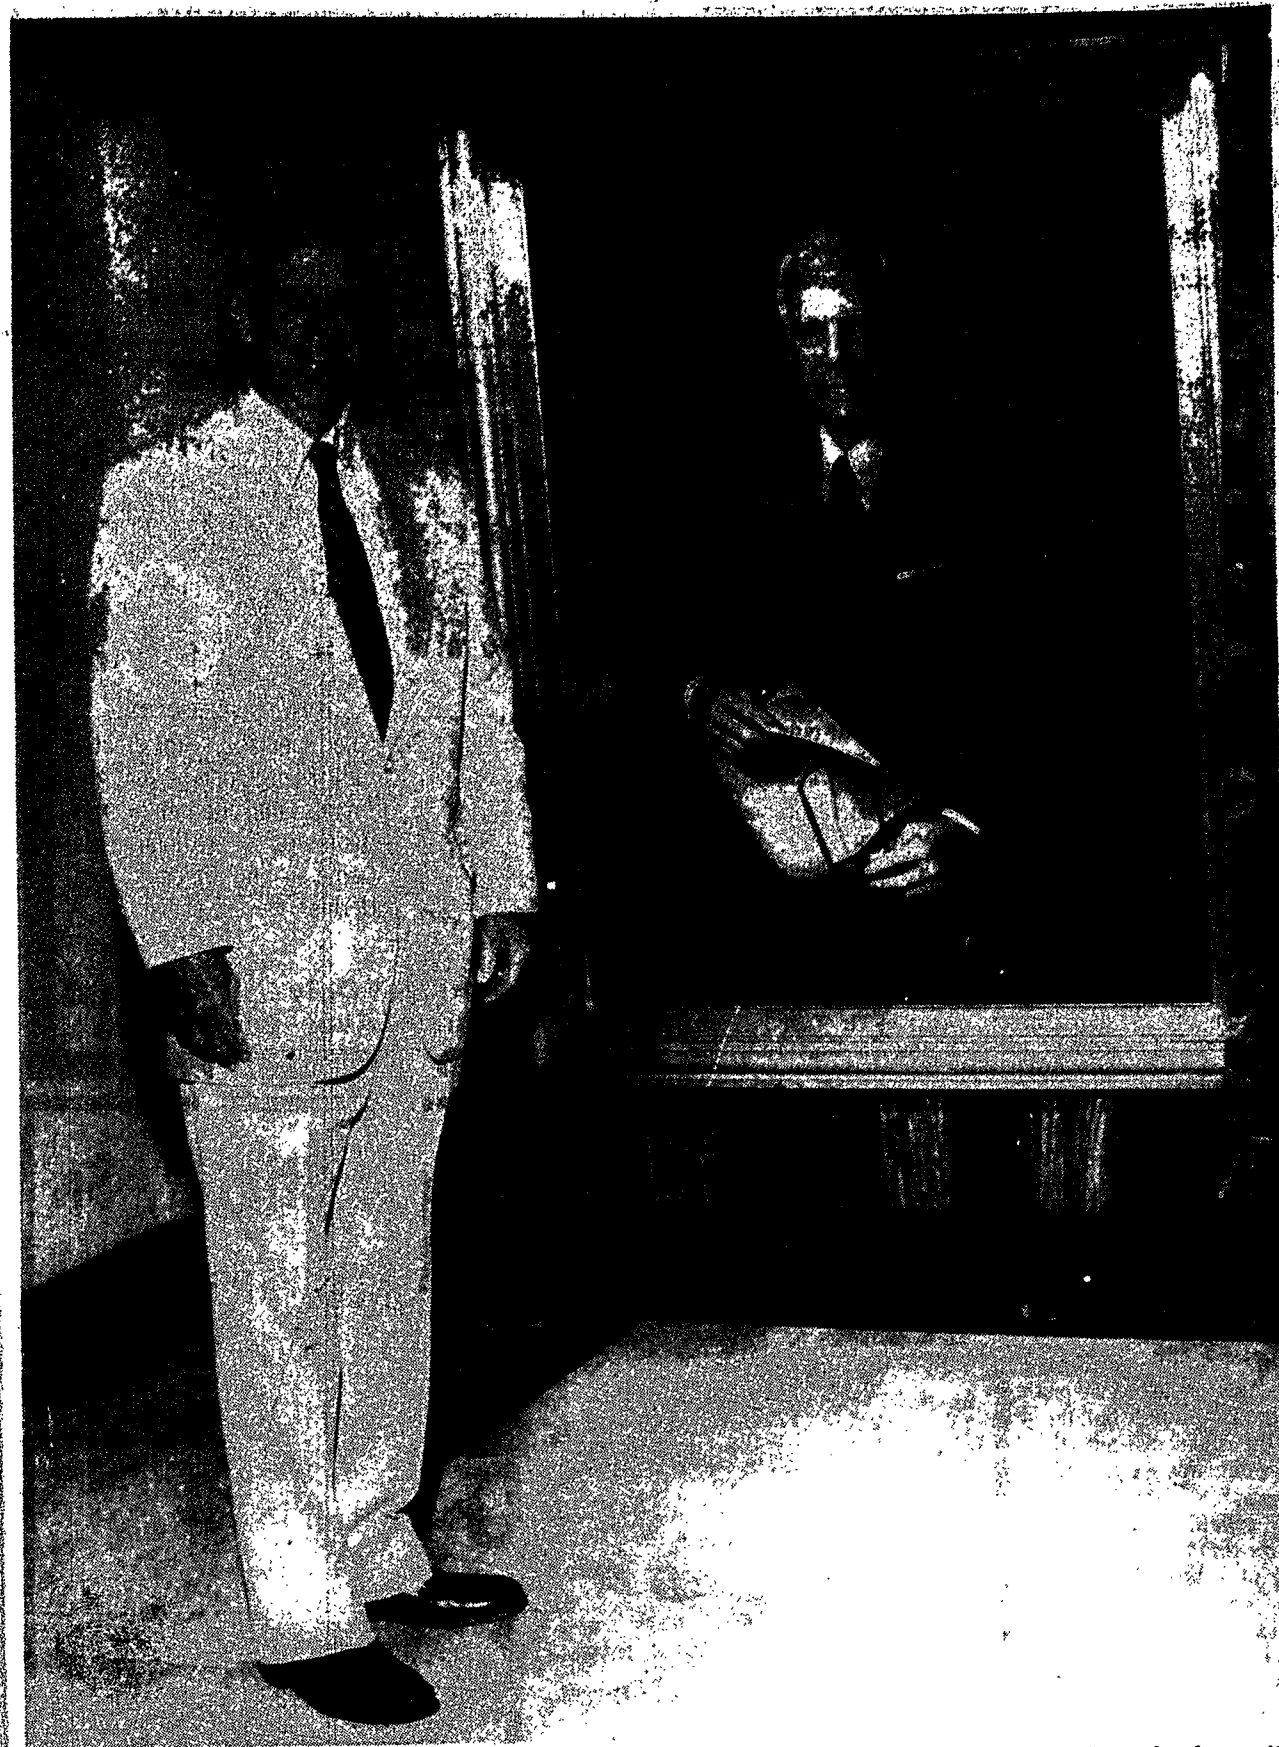

"In recent weeks we've discussed our problems. We know what they are and what should be done. I don't believe in starting rumors or bad-mouthing anyone. As a man who was born and reared in Beat 1 and who has raised his family here, I truly believe it is time for a change to a full-time supervisor. Thank you for your continued support and wise consideration of the issues that confront us now as we approach the next four years in the district where we're chosen to live."

UNVEILING—Donald E. Sutter, chairman of the board of Hancock Bank, stands next to a life-sized portrait of himself. The unveiling of the portrait took place at a reception conducted in Sutter's honor Sunday, July 31. Sutter has been with the bank for 56 years. Approximately 1,000 friends and associates attended the reception.

Chairman of the board honored at Hancock Bank reception

Approximately 1,000 friends, well-wishers and business associates attended a Sunday afternoon reception honoring Donald E. Sutter, chairman of the board of Hancock Bank, in recognition of the beginning of his 57th year of association with Hancock Bank. The reception was held in the lobby of Hancock Bank from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., July 31.

During a brief ceremony, Leo W. Seal Jr., president of Hancock Bank, highlighted Sutter's association with the bank. He traced Sutter's career as a Gulf Coast native through high school, employment with the bank at 15, leading to his election as chairman of the board.

The ceremony climaxed with the unveiling by Mrs. Sutter of a life-sized portrait of Sutter by well-known Mississippi portrait artist, Eric McDonald of Gulfport and Jackson.

After the presentation friends greeted Mr. and Mrs. Sutter in the lobby of the bank.

Music for the reception was provided by the Leon Kerner combo.

ETV Briefs

FARMWEEK AWARD

A feature report produced for "Farmweek," a weekly television series about Mississippi Agriculture that is broadcast at 7:30 p.m., Mondays, on Mississippi ETV, was recently presented an award by a national agricultural communications organization, announced Tyson Gair, host and co-producer. The report, which was about egg production, was presented an Award of Excellence at a competition held by Agricultural Communicators in Education (ACE) when members convened in Madison, Wisc., in July.

The "Farmweek" team consists of Gair; Artis Ford, market reporter; and Helen Brahan, field reporter. These three are based at the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service in Starkville. Co-producer/director Tom Allen works at Mississippi ETV in Jackson. The series is co-produced by these two agencies.

LITTLE AT POPS

Master impressionist Rich Little is the guest star on "Evening at Pops" at 7 p.m., Sunday, Aug. 28 on the Mississippi ETV Network.

The popular program from last season features the "man-of-a-thousand-faces" in a variety of roles. John Williams conducts the Boston Pops Orchestra in accompaniment to Little's antics.

ELECT JOSEPH "JOE" DOBSON

JUSTICE COURT JUDGE EAST DISTRICT

I am 53 years old, married and we have two small children, Stacey Ann age 10; and Joseph Jr. age 7.

SERVED 12 YEARS AS A PUBLIC OFFICIAL

Four years as a Constable, and eight years as a Hancock County Judge. If you have any questions about this position, please call 467-3779.

QUALIFIED BY EDUCATION AND EXPERIENCE

Courteous, Fair and Available.

I believe in better government and a better Hancock County for our children.

Please get out and VOTE on August 23. That is this Tuesday. Examine my qualifications and time spent in public office.

ELECT me as your next Justice Court Judge East District. To the voters who supported another candidate, please consider me.

A QUALIFIED MAN FOR A DEMANDING JOB

- College Degree in Business Administration from Loyola University
- Captain U.S. Army Infantry - 2 yrs.
- Captain U.S. Army Military Police - 2 yrs.
- Deputy Sheriff Hancock County - 5 yrs.
- 13 years of successful business

TO ALL CITIZENS OF HANCOCK COUNTY

Government is big business, and as we draw close to this election it is time for each of you to determine the man best qualified to manage that business.

I feel that with my education background, my many years of successful business experience, and my military and business leadership, I am by far the most qualified man to be your Supervisor in District Two.

My primary goal for Hancock County is to work closely with all members of the Board of Supervisors in order to improve industrial development in our county, thus reducing our staggering unemployment.

In District Two my primary goal is to increase the quality of our road and drainage systems by increasing the amount of maintenance on them. Furthermore, I would employ full-time grass maintenance personnel during the summer months.

I will develop and maintain recreational facilities in each of our communities so that our children can safely occupy some of their idle time.

I have tried to visit with each of you during this campaign and personally answer your questions and ask for your vote and support. If I missed any of you, please consider this my personal request for your vote and support. And I strongly urge each of you to exercise your voice in government by voting August 23, 1983.

Cuevas, 29, of Pearlington. Cuevas captured 564 votes and Kellar took 838.

Competing for the Justice Court Judge seat in the East District runoff are District Four Judge Bruce J. Neause, 28, and Joseph (Joe) Dobson, 52, both of Bay St. Louis.

Three constable nominations are being sought. For District One constable, Tommy J. Ladner, 30, is challenging, incumbent Peter Joseph Noto, 65. Noto is Hancock County's circuit court bailiff.

The District Two race for constable is between Gary L. Bennett, 31, of Pearlington and Hugh (Buddy) Odum, 33, of Old Kiln Road near the Pearl River County line.

Kire C. Mitchell Jr., 34, of Kiln will face Alton (Clay) Sick Jr., 30, for the constable position in District Five.

UNDEVELOPED LAND
QUESTION: I continue to see land prices increase as our city grows. Buying undeveloped land is very tempting. What advice can you give a novice land investor? A. J., Jackson

ANSWER: Dear J. J.: Undeveloped land in the path of a city's growth is one of the most alluring, yet risky, forms of investment.

All of us have read about or heard of those people who purchased raw land prior to the rapid development of a city.

Some of those investors made a quick and handsome profit; thus, it would seem to follow that investing in raw land is the answer to quick profit.

However, such is not always the case and caution needs to be taken prior to investing in land just as caution should be taken before investing in any type of real estate.

Investing in undeveloped land does not provide the investor income, but does require regular cash payments for mortgage interest and taxes.

These cash outlays, which can be substantial, are reduced only by income-tax deductions.

An investor cannot recoup money quickly in the event the investment needs to be sold because it may take months or even years to sell undeveloped land at its fair market value.

It is even difficult to determine fair market value for undeveloped land. Unlike securities, newspapers do not offer land price quotes and professional appraisals are too costly to be done regularly. Despite these drawbacks, the appeal of land is undeniable. With favorable growth patterns and wise investment decisions, substantial gains can be made through investment.

For answers to your questions, write Dr. Dennis Tosh, P. O. Box 295, University, MS 38677.

CHECK BUILDER BEFORE BUYING

QUESTION: We recently moved to our present town and are interested in buying a new house. We do not know any of the builders in the area. What do you suggest to help us choose a builder? V. C., Sardis

ANSWER: Dear V. C.:

As with other consumer items, be it a television set or a pair of shoes, the quality of a new house varies according to the manufacturer or builder. Before buying a new house, you need to determine whether it was constructed by a reputable builder.

Good builders often have been in business a number of years under the same name and have customers who can attest to the quality of their houses.

During slow economic periods such as the one we just went through, many builders leave the business but the good ones always seem to survive.

Many reliable builders are members of the registered builder program of the National Association of Home Builders. In order for a builder to qualify for the HOW program, the constructed house must meet HOW's strict

Alcorn fall faculty conference to eye education

Alcorn State University will conduct its Fall Faculty Conference Aug. 25-26 in the Campus Union Ballroom beginning at 9 a.m.

This year's theme will be Excellence in Education: Meeting the Challenges of the 80's.

The two-day conference will consist of faculty workshop, a campus tour and an orientation session for new faculty members.

Dr. Malvin Williams, dean of academic affairs at ASU, stated that the conference committee members have attempted to design the conference to appeal to the educational concerns of the faculty. "We think that it will be more beneficial and of interest to the faculty," he said.

Fall registration for students will begin several days after the conference with the opening of freshmen dormitories on Sunday, Aug. 28.

Freshmen orientation will be Aug. 29-31 and freshmen registration will be held Sept. 1 in the Health, Physical Education and Recreation Complex from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Registration for graduate students is also scheduled for Sept. 1 from 5 to 8 p.m. in the same building.

Dormitories for upperclassmen will open on Sept. 1 and registration for upperclassmen will be on Friday, Sept. 2 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. All classes will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 6.

THANK YOU

I want to take this opportunity to thank my friends who voted for me in my campaign for Sheriff of Hancock County.

To those who saw fit to cast their vote for my opponent, I have not before, nor do I hold malice or hard feelings toward you, but respect your right to cast your vote as you saw fit.

I have enjoyed working with and serving the people of Hancock County by serving as City Commissioner of the City of Bay St. Louis, Miss., for 7 years, Sheriff and Tax Collector for 8 years when job was combined and 8 more years as Sheriff when the job was separated making a total of 23 years as an elected official.

My father the late Sylvan J. Ladner, Sr., served the City of Bay St. Louis, Miss., as City Secretary and City Commissioner for 17 years. This makes a total of 40 years served by my father and I in an elected position.

I would also like to take this opportunity to advise the people of Hancock County, even though I am not in politics, if I am ever able to help them with some of their problems I want them to contact me and I will try to assist them in any way that I can.

THANKS TO ALL AND GOD BLESS YOU.

VOTE FOR PERFORMANCE NOT PROMISES

Re-Elect WADE O. SMITH

As your Representative I helped pass H.B. 4, the Education Reform Act of 1982. This bill provides for early childhood education and also increases teacher's pay for this year an average of 9-10%. I have supported every teacher's pay increase every session since I have been your Representative. I have been absent only 2 days in 16 years, in the House.

I am committed to supporting appropriations to increase the teachers pay scale to the average of the other Southern States.

I have been concerned about the high unemployment and people out of work and have done something about it. During this past session I helped pass H.B. 711 and S.B. 2528. These bills will stimulate business and industrial growth. New businesses and old ones expanding will be exempted from sales and use taxes under certain criteria and Income Tax Credit of $1,000 per year for each employee hired for a period of 10 years.

When re-elected, I will introduce bills:

1. To restore mineral rights to the surface owners after 10 years when owned by someone other than the surface owner.
2. A bill to set the assessment ratio at 15% of the appraised value on homes and land, and 30% of the appraised value on automobiles and utilities. If this is not done homeowners will be paying twice as high taxes on their homes after the reappraisal law becomes effective next year.
3. I will sponsor a bill to increase the pay of retirees of the Mississippi Public Employees retirement system. This bill would increase the pay formula from 1% to 2½%.
4. A bill to provide that when any public official of the State of Mississippi, County, or City is indicted by the Federal government, or the State of Mississippi for dealing drugs, they would be automatically suspended from office until they are proven innocent or guilty.

Waveland Players' summer spectacular opens Friday

The Waveland Players are putting the finishing touches on their annual Variety Show—this year entitled "Variety '83—A Cavalcade of American Entertainment."

Producer-Director Ed. Scanlan Jr., who is also the Waveland Players' Art Director, has designed a unique set, that he is keeping a big, dark secret.

The show will open Friday, August 26 at 8 p.m., continuing

Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sunday, Aug. 28 at 3 p.m.

The following weekend the show will be presented and Saturday, Sept. 2 and 3 at 8 p.m. at the Waveland Civic Center on Coleman Avenue.

Tickets are $3 at the door. Choreographer Piccola Dietrich and her dancers open the show with a "Charleston Jazz Number," and appear in the second and third acts doing a "Rock'n Roll Medley" and a rousing "Robert E. Lee Showboat Number."

Dancers are Chiara Ishem, Monica Parker, Jan Frommeyer, Angelique Bell, Hansel Baxter, Jamie Dieck, Nicola Dietrich and Buffy Jaquillard. Baxter performs a solo to Victor/Victoria.

Assistant Director Jeanne-Marie Bell has written two original sketches for the show: "A Vaudeville Court Room Sketch" starring Bunk

Gardner, Ted Stechmann, Baxter, and Scanlan; and a radio skit starring Dottie Overall, Margo Frommeyer, Bell, Barbara Fitch, and the voices of Ted Stechmann and Orson Welles (the latter is taped, of course!) called "War of the Worlds."

Other skits are the melodramatic "The Villain Still Pursued Her," featuring Lana Noonan, Lori Garside, Derek Stechmann, and Tommy Worrel; "Stand Up or Fall Down," written and performed as a monologue by Margo Frommeyer; and a take-off on the L'il Abner comic strip, "L'il Abner and Daisy Mae: The Lover's Erand," featuring Baxter and Martin Booda.

Barbara and Dick Fitch sing "I Remember It Well;" Noonan and Gardner blend join in the Broadway Show tunes "Small Talk" from Pajama Game and "I Loved You Once in Silence" from Camelot.

The Gospel numbers "Amazing Grace," "Put Your Hand in The Hand," and "He's Got The Whole World in His Hands" are sung by Sherril Crosby, Noonan, Overall, Juanita Shubert, Garside, Baxter, Janet Aime, Marilyn Thorton, and Janelle McLain.

Scanlan and Garside strum their guitars and sing a medley of country songs, including John Denver's "Rocky Mountain Suite" and "Country Roads;" Peter, Paul, and Mary's "If I Had a Hammer;" Hank Williams' "Your Cheatin' Heart;" Tennessee Ernie Ford's "Sixteen Tons;" "I Was Lookin' Back to See;" and "OH, Lonesome Me."

Baxter also dances to Noonan singing "Stars over Alabama," while Mary Dilonzo dances "A Showboat Minstrel."

The entire cast joins in a "Showboat Minstrel" of songs and one-liners for the grand finale.

The minstrel numbers are "Music, Music, Music," "Camptown Races," "Bye, Bye, Blackbird," "Darktown Strutters Ball," "Wait 'Till The Sun Shines, Nellie," and "I'm Looking Over a Four-Leaf Clover."

Crew includes Dick Fitch, sound; Pam Baumgartner lights; Joe Minas, spotlight manager; Derek Stechmann and Tommy Worrel, assistant stage managers; Meta Garside and Edith Bierhorst Back, publicity; Scanlan and Meta Garside, programs; Lauri Garside, Overall, and Jan Frommeyer, make-up; Bubby Dietrich, concessions; and Betty Stechmann and Meta Garside, tickets.

"The Waveland Players urge you to come and enjoy beat the summer doldrums amid songs, laughs, and dance," Scanlan said.

The Sea Coast Echo Book Review

Books by five University of Southern Mississippi English Department faculty members are expected to roll off the presses this fall or in 1984.

Frederick Barthelme's "Moon Deluxe" a collection of 17 short stories is to be published in the fall. Of the 17 short stories, 13 originally appeared in the "New Yorker." Barthelme also has a novel, as yet untitled, scheduled for publication in 1984.

Dr. Phillip C. Kolin's upper division technical writing text, "Methods and Models in Technical Writing" will be published in 1984. Kolin's 500-page text stresses audience analysis. Kolin is also editor of "Shakespeare in the South: Essays on Performance" scheduled for release in the fall. The 400-page collection of essays covers Southern Theatre history from colonial Virginia to current Shakespeare festivals in North Carolina, Alabama and Texas.

In late 1983 or early 1984 new editions of "Absalom, Absalom!" and "The Sound and the Fury" will be published. These editions edited by Dr. Noel Polk from manuscript and typescripts at the University of Virginia and Texas will represent the novels as Faulkner meant them to be published. "Walker Percy," Dr. Jay Tharpe's examination of the works of the Mississippi author is scheduled for publication in September. The book including a chronology and bibliography emphasizes Percy's main theme, love both divine and human.

Older Americans to require added social services

As the number of older Americans increases in the coming years there will be an increased need for social workers, Dr. Lennie-Marie Tolliver, U.S. commissioner on aging, said recently at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Speaking to students and faculty of the Graduate School of Social Work, Dr. Tolliver said one out of nine Americans is now an older person but by the year 2000 it will be one in six and by 2030 it will be one in four.

"These demographic changes have profound implications for the entire structure of society, so that we need to begin to plan now for the future," she said.

"I think that social work has a very important role to play in providing services and in the utilization of older people as a resource," she said, adding that social workers' expertise in the areas of planning and resource development and coordination would be valuable.

The U.S. Administration on Aging, a program office in the Department of Health and Human Services, is "very supportive of the desire of older people to remain independent and in their own homes."

For this reason she said the Reagan administration has been engaged in developing community-based care programs with and for older people.

She said that working with older people has not been a field of practice for large numbers of social workers but "I think the opportunities will be there in the future."

Dr. Tolliver came to USM after attending the Mississippi Council on Aging's third education and training conference in Jackson. She toured health centers, senior centers and a congregate housing project.

She was "delighted" to learn about the Uniting the Generations Together program which seeks to bridge the generation gap between senior citizens and youth by bringing them together through the study of literature and the sharing of ideas.

The program is sponsored by the Governor's Office of Human Development, the Mississippi Committee for the Humanities and the Graduate School of Social Work.

Social studies grant goes to Alcorn State

The U.S. Department of Education has recently awarded a $40,000 grant to the Department of Social Sciences at Alcorn State University.

The grant came after a proposal entitled, "Undergraduate International Studies and Foreign Language Program," was accepted for funding by the federal agency.

The grant is designed to establish and implement a comprehensive and interdisciplinary international studies program at Alcorn.

The grant is for two years beginning from July 1, 1983 through June 30, 1985. The first year's funding is $40,000. The second year's funding, which is equivalent to $40,000, is contingent upon satisfactory progress of the program and the availability of federal funds.

"As we applied for the grant, we were in a nationwide competition with other universities," stated Dr. John M. Lee, project director and assistant professor in the department of social sciences at Alcorn.

When asked about some of the reasons for awarding the grant by the federal government, Dr. Lee answered, "We received the award due to the educational needs of our students, the qualification of the participating faculty and staff and the University's record of supporting grant projects."

Among the activities to be undertaken is curriculum enrichment. New international studies courses to be developed are studies in Latin American Literature, The Comparative Study of Third World Women, The Emerging Third World Nations, and International Studies Summer Seminar for Teachers.

International components will be incorporated into selected sections of American Government, Social Institutions, and The Family.

Other international courses available at the University are International Law, International Economics, Economic Development, Comparative Economic Systems, History of African Thought and Culture, Contemporary African Thought and Culture, World Civilization, and World Geography.

For more information, contact Dr. John M. Lee, Department of Social Sciences, at (601) 877-6411.

Kids shop for fashion, fit; parents look for wear, value

By Beth Duncan
Clothing Specialist
Extension Service

Back-to-school clothing purchases are often a source of conflict among parents and children. The conflict arises because the qualities a parent looks for in children's clothing are not always the same qualities the child desires.

Parents tend to shop for such things as durability and value in school clothes. Children, on the other hand, shop for fashion and fit.

Katherine Stooksbury, assistant professor of child development at Mississippi State University, said the traditional stability of family life is not as common today as it used to be, and because of this children have a greater need for acceptance by their peers.

Jean Kizer, also an assistant professor of child development at MSU, said that even among college students the stability once provided by families is now derived from peer relationships.

"It's amazing, first everybody had to have their ears pierced, then it was the gold chains. One day there were none on campus and the next day everybody was wearing them," Mrs. Kizer said.

"Anyone who is different is not frowned at, but they are told subtly that they are different," she added.

Miss Stooksbury said the gold chains have not become required wear at the preschool level, but that styles do prevail nonetheless.

"Even a three-year-old can tell you if you're wearing an Izod shirt. Most children will know what kinds of clothing they have on and where it came from. When E.T. came out all the children had to have something with E.T. on it," Miss Stooksbury said.

Knowing what type of clothing your child likes and wants to wear, you can make better selections when it comes time to buy the back-to-school wardrobe.

Young children usually like bright colors, soft and furry textured fabrics, shiny fabrics and animal or toy fabric designs and decorative details. Children also like clothes that do not restrict movement or irritate the skin.

These fabric considerations can be found in this fall's back-to-school selections.

The older children and young adults will be wearing sporty jean outfits in stonewashed denim and soft, fleece sweatshirt fabrics. Short, tiered dresses and skirts, suspenders, pinafores, jumper looks, bibs and front pleat details will also be important.

Here are a few tips that will help making shopping for back-to-school clothes more pleasant for everyone involved:

"Before shopping, decide how much money is available in the budget. Discuss this with the child. This will help with overspending.

"Read the care labels. Make certain the garment is easy to care for. Point out to children reasons why clothes would or would not be easy to care for.

"Spend the most money on clothing that is worn often, receives the hardest wear, and is laundered frequently.

"Look for garments that can be mixed and matched together with other items already in the wardrobe. Help the child learn the concept of mixing and matching clothes at the time of purchase.

"Take advantage of sales but purchase only sale items really needed.

It is possible to combine the preferences of both parent and child when shopping for those back-to-school clothes. It may not always be the "perfect" outfit in everyone's estimation, but if shopping is done together and if each person is aware of the other's wants and needs, a little give and take can produce a satisfactory back-to-school wardrobe for all.

Open for lunch

No, we're not a restaurant. We're a bank, and as strange as it may seem We're open all day long. Why? The answer is simple. We believe in old fashioned customer service.

Now if you think that all of this is unusual. Wait until you find out that all of your transactions are recorded the same day, right up to closing time. Sound hard to believe? At Gulf National Bank we believe service to our customers comes first. That may seem old fashioned, but we think you deserve it.

So, if you're looking for the best hours in town and a bank that really cares — go Gulf. We're open 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. Monday through Thursday and from 9 A.M. to 5:30 P.M. on Friday for your convenience.

Help Your Heart

Sex: 'Nature's Tonic'

Sexual activity is relatively safe, and also desirable, following a heart attack, Thomas P. Hackett, M.D., said at a recent American Heart Association meeting.

Many people strongly believe the harmful myth that having sex imposes an enormous stress on the heart, said Dr. Hackett, chief of psychiatry at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

Various studies show a 20 to 50 percent reduction in frequency of sexual intercourse in men who have had heart attacks, he continued. Indeed, about one-quarter of men never resume sex after their heart attacks.

He cited studies indicating that a drop in sexual activity often precedes the heart attack, leading some researchers to conjecture that sexual disability may trigger some disease-producing factors that lead to heart attacks.

A careful physiologically monitored study of 14 husbands and wives indicated that sexual activity in middle-aged married people is not strenuous. "The amount of energy expended is little more than it takes to walk leisurely up two flights of stairs, or to stroll around the block." But extramarital sex can be something else, posing some distress and danger, Dr. Hackett said.

Numerous drugs can alter sex life by reducing desire or energy levels, or by interfering with the mechanisms of erection and ejaculation, he said. "Often the patient is comforted when told the drug is the culprit, not his masculinity."

Mental depression can also inhibit or lessen capacity. Sexual counseling can lead to earlier resumption of sexual activity which can improve the marital relationship and boost the patient's self-confidence.

Thomas P. Hackett, M.D.

Physical activity or conditioning can be a great help, he added. The spouse's attitude is also critical in shaping the patient's attitude toward return to work, return to sexual activity, and return to sex.

"Satisfactory sex," Dr. Hackett said, "seems to be a key to progress in rehabilitation" following heart attacks. "When sex resumes, it is safe to predict the individual will return to work and to socializing, and depression usually clears up and the patient's self-esteem returns. It is one of nature's finest tonics."

Physical activity or conditioning can be a great help, he added. The spouse's attitude is also critical in shaping the patient's attitude toward return to work, return to sexual activity, and return to sex.

Eye test scheduled on Mississippi ETV

The Mississippi Affiliate of the National Society to Prevent Blindness is sponsoring a TV Eye Test to be aired on Mississippi Educational Network's "Access" Sunday, August 28 at 1:30 p.m.

The test was developed by Dr. Milton Flocks in 1978 at Stanford University and consists of two parts.

Instructions for taking the test will be given on the program. The first part uses the familiar eye-chart letters to check visual acuity. Failure to pass this part could indicate astigmatism, near-sightedness, far-sightedness, cataracts and other problems.

The second part of the test uses patterns of dots to check peripheral or field vision...the way you see the world out of the corner of your eye.

Failure to pass this part of the test could indicate glaucoma.

Dr. Samuel B. Johnson, chief of ophthalmology, UMS, will be present to talk about the importance of screenings and regular examinations and to discuss a few common eye problems.

Mrs. Donette Lee, president of the Mississippi Affiliate will explain the services of the society and the ways persons with questions may contact the society.

The TV Eye Test lasts ten minutes and 13 seconds.

Many people put off eye examinations until it is too late. Early detection of most eye problems is the key to successful treatment and correction.

The society said the test is a simple screening device that is 90 percent accurate, testing limited visual skills. Failure to pass the test can indicate any one of a range of eye problems.

MR. AND MRS. BRIAN ROBERT MILNER

Milner, Benvenuti wed at OLG Church

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the July 30 wedding of Mary Rebecca Benvenuti of Bay St. Louis and Brian Robert Milner of Houston, Tex.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Benvenuti of Bay St. Louis. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Joseph Milner of Dickinson, Tex.

Rev. Jeremiah F. Milner, OFM of Providence, R.I., uncle of the groom, officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony. Nuptial music was provided by organist Mrs. Mary Howard and vocalist Maria Anne Benvenuti, sister of the bride, who sang "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Arrangements of white gladioli, carnations, cushion poms and greenery decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory chiffon with Victorian style bodice enhanced with venise and cluny laces and embroidered with seed pearls on the ring collar and long tapered lace sleeves. The gently flared skirt extended to a chapel length train. Her veil of illusion was held in place by a lace and pearl trimmed Juliet cap. She carried a clutch bouquet of white bridal roses, stephanotis, fugi poms, baby's breath and English ivy.

Maria Anne Benvenuti of Bay St. Louis and Susan Alice Douglass of Jasper, Tex., sisters of the bride, were maid of honor and matron of honor, respectively.

Bridesmaids were Elizabeth Jean Benvenuti of Bay St.

Louis, sister-in-law of the bride; Lisa Ann Milner and Kerine Ann Milner of Texas, sisters of the groom; and Leigh Lovett Barbour of Jacksonville, Fla.

The attendants were identically attired in formal gowns of seagreen taffeta, and carried clutch bouquets of daisies, miniature carnations, baby's breath and fern with white ribbon streamers.

Sean David Milner of Long Beach, brother of the groom, was best man.

Groomsmen were Joseph

De Alton Benvenuti and Benjamin Shourds Benvenuti of Bay St. Louis, brothers of the bride; David Handshoe of Jackson; Tommy Longo of Waveland; and Devo Smelly of Houston, Tex.

A reception followed the ceremony on the grounds of Virginia Hall at Christ Episcopal. Assisting were Mrs. Wanda Goodsell and Laz Duncan.

On return from a wedding trip to Gulf Shores, Ala., the couple will reside in Houston, Tex.

Evening vows join Williamson, Terrell

Catherine Ann Terrell of Dallas, Tex. and William Alston Williamson III of New York City exchanged wedding vows July 30 in an 8 p.m. ceremony at Highland Park United Methodist Church in Dallas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Terrell of Dallas. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kennedy of Dallas and Mrs. Tol Terrell of San Angelo, Tex. and the late Mr. Terrell.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Williamson Jr. of Montgomery, Ala. Mrs. Williamson is the former Patricia Shadoin of Bay St. Louis. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Richard Shadoin of Bay St. Louis and W.A. Williamson of Montgomery, Ala. and the late Mrs. Williamson.

Rev. Barry Bailey officiated at the double ring ceremony. Angelique L'Amour of Los Angeles, Ca. was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of imported candlelight Lyon lace jewelled with tiny seed pearls and imported paillettes. Her veil of ivory silk illusion fell in soft tiers beyond her chapel length train. She carried a cascade of white gardenias.

Laura Dunlap of Dallas,

Tex. attended her cousin as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Melinda Dowd, Stacey Salvino, Michelle Moore, Paige Williamson, sister of the groom; Doris O'Chell, Mrs. Malcolm Holland and Mrs. David Goodwyn, all of Dallas.

The attendants wore floor length gowns of emerald green taffeta featuring ruffled necklines. Circlets of flowers adorned their hair.

W.A. Williamson Jr. served his son as best man.

Groomsmen were Charlie Terrell, brother of the bride; Tom Flood, Jim Landen and Charles Rose, all of Dallas; Craig James of Washington, D.C.; Mike Toll of San Angelo, Tex.; Jim Wilson, George Goodwyn, Pete Taylor and Ed McDonough, all of Montgomery, Ala.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Northwood Country Club of Dallas.

On return from a wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple will reside in New York City, where the groom is employed with E.F. Hutton.

Wedding guests attending from Bay St. Louis were Mrs. John J. McDonald; Mrs. Sam Whitfield; and Mr. and Mrs. James Richard Shadoin, grandparents of the groom.

MRS. WILLIAM A. WILLIAMSON III

Jackson, Boos to wed Sept. 10

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Jackson of Clermont Harbor announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Paula Jackson, to Dave Boos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Boos of Clermont Harbor.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Jackson of New Orleans and the late Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Courge.

She is a graduate of Bay Senior High School. She attended the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg and is employed with L & A Contracting Company.

The prospective groom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Schwarzenback of New Orleans and the late Mr. and Mrs. Otto Boos.

He was graduated from St. Stanislaus High School. He attended Pearl River Junior College and is employed with Mechanical Construction Company.

The couple will solemnize vows September 10 in a 7:30 p.m. ceremony at First Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis.

Ruhr, Lambert announce betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah H. Ruhr of Bay St. Louis announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Lynn Marie Ruhr, to Johnny Douglas (Doug) Lambert, son of Mrs. Vivian Anderson of Quitman, Miss. and the late James Lambert.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Bay Senior High School and attended Pearl River Junior College.

She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Elzie Sellier of Bay St. Louis and the late Elder Sellier and Mrs. Eva Ruhr of Waveland and the late William Ruhr.

The prospective groom was graduated from Clarke Academy of Pachuta, Miss. He is an honor graduate of Pearl River Junior College and is employed with Chrysler Corp. of Meridian, Miss.

He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Doyle Lambert of Quitman and the late Mr. and Mrs. Edna J. Luker of Thomasville, Ala.

The couple will exchange vows Saturday, August 27 in a 3 p.m. ceremony at the American Legion Home in Bay St. Louis with reception immediately following. Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

FIRST BIRTHDAY— Taylor Stephen LaFontaine celebrated his first birthday August 4 at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald J. LaFontaine of Waveland. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Blaize of Waveland and Mr. and Mrs. Roland LaFontaine of Gulfport.

Minacapelli's to rerun 'Forum'

Minacapelli's Dinner Theater is planning a return engagement of Stephen Sondheim's raucous musical "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum."

The most honored musical ever to appear on Broadway "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" enjoys the distinction of being the only musical comedy to win two Tony awards for Best Musical, Best Actor and Best Supporting Actor, having swept the awards in 1962 and again ten years later in a revival with a completely different cast.

According to proprietor Joe Minacapelli, "A Funny Thing..." is the single most requested production in the history of Minacapelli's.

"A Funny Thing..." is the story of a conniving Roman slave's hilarious maneuvers to obtain his freedom by pairing off his master with a virgin previously promised to a pompous Roman warrior.

The book, written by Larry Gelbert of M*A*S*H fame, never lets the plot get in the way of the outlandish antics of the cast in their efforts to provide "Comedy Tonight."

Replete with outrageous situations, "A Funny Thing..." also possesses a delightful musical score by Stephen Sondheim whose credits include "West Side Story," "Company," and "A Little Night Music."

Playing the role of the scheming slave, Pseudolus, is Bob Kearney, who last appeared as Oscar Madison in last seasons smash hit, "The Odd Couple."

A Minacapelli's veteran, Kearney has also appeared in

"Barefoot in the Park," "Don't Drink the Water" and "Never Too Late."

The role of Hysterium, the frantic slave-in-chief who is the victim of most of Pseudolus' scheme is played by Blair Ziegler, who last appeared at Minacapelli's as the fey interior decorator in "Three Goats and a Blanket."

Ziegler has also played LePetit Theater, and the late New Orleans Repertory Theater.

Appearing as the lovers "coincided" by the outrageous machinations of "Pseudolus" are Kathleen Bryan as Philia and Greg Bonin as Hero. Bryan was Chava in the recent "Fiddler on the Roof" while Greg who also appeared in "Fiddler" as a Russian dancer, recently performed in LePetit's production of "Grease."

Two Minacapelli veterans, Lyndah Moreau and Charles Ferrara appear as Hero's parents, Domina and Senex.

Cree Rankin, who appeared at Minacapelli's previously in "The Odd Couple" and "Never Too Late" will portray the flesh peddler Marcus Lycus, while Cloverelle Loyacano, a veteran of over 50 years in local theater, including a turn as Yente the matchmaker in Minacapelli's "Fiddler," will play the role of the befuddled Erronia, whose rediscovery of her long-lost children winds up what plot there is.

As Miles Gloriosus, the arrogant captain who claims Philia as his own, is George Kerekes. A newcomer to Minacapelli's, Kerekes has appeared in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" at LePetit and "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" at Player Dinner Theater.

The Proteans, those three actors who appear at various times in a multitude of roles are played by John Dupuy and Vern Batten, both Minacapelli's newcomers, and Kevin Driscoll who was seen in "Fiddler" and "How to Succeed..."

The sultry courtesans, residents of the house of Marcus Lycus will be portrayed by Marilyn Saponaro (one of the Geminae) who was a Hot Box Dancer in "Guys and Dolls" at Minacapelli's; Zannie Giraud (Tintinabula), who was Hedy LaRue in "How to Succeed..." and the fiddler in "Fiddler"; Diane Lala (Panacea) and Cheryl Dvais (Vibrata), newcomers to the Minacapelli stage but recently cast members of the Beverly Dinner Theater's "The Music Man"; and Amy Stanley Mitchell (Gymnasia), also a Minacapelli newcomer.

The production is under the direction of Denny Childs; Becky Childs is music director; and Denise Oustalet is choreographer.

The set was designed and executed by David Potter and the costumes were designed and executed by Nancy Kearney.

"A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" will run through Saturday, October 1 with performances Thursday through Saturday at 8:15 p.m. preceded by a buffet dinner starting at 6:30 p.m.

A special Sunday Matinee at 2:15 p.m. is preceded by a buffet at 1 p.m.

For reservations call 438-7000, New Orleans, or 643-8671, Slidell.

More college aid available in Mississippi

Last year 65,000 students out of the 100,000 attending Mississippi's colleges and universities received some type of financial assistance.

Between $118 to $120 million of financial aid was made available to students through grants, scholarships, loans or student employment.

The approximate cost to attend one of the eight public universities in the state is about $4,500 per academic year (nine months) and about $6,000 at a private college.

At one of the state's public junior colleges, a student can expect to invest about $3,000 per academic year.

These costs for a student living in the dormitory include tuition, books, food service and personal and transportation expenditures.

In past years there has been much discussion about the cut-back of financial aid programs; yet this has not happened.

There is more financial aid available in the state now than ever before, according to Dr. E. E. Thrash, executive secretary and director of the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning.

"Financial aid programs are provided for Mississippi students who seriously desire to attend a college or university. If students are committed to receiving a higher education, there are financial aid opportunities available to help them achieve that goal," said Thrash.

The largest amount of financial assistance for students comes from grants. Last year $50 million of grant money went to about 50,000 students averaging about $1,100 per student.

The maximum amount of money a student can receive from a Pell Grant is about $1,800. These federal grants established in 1973 were originally called Basic Educational Opportunity Grants and were renamed in 1981 for Senator Claiborne Pell, the author of the legislation.

Grants, which are generally allied to financial aid, are gifts to students and do not have to be repaid.

Two other grant programs which are funded by the federal government are the State Student Incentive Grant and the Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant.

tional Opportunity Grant which total over $3 million. Scholarships are generally awarded based on academic excellence, athletics, or other talents or skills students may exhibit.

Last year the eight universities extended over $15 million in scholarships and private colleges spent approximately $2 million.

There are a variety of loan programs in the state that are available to students.

The State Postsecondary Financial Assistance Board is administered through the financial aid office of the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning. This board provides loans to students who are unable to secure the funds from private lending institutions and acts as a lender of last resort in the Guaranteed Student Loan Program.

To provide additional funds for student loans, a private non-profit corporation, the Higher Education Financial Assistance Corporation, was established in 1983.

The purpose of the corporation is to provide lenders the opportunity to sell some of their student loans and reinvest this money in making more student loans.

This corporation works with banks, savings and loans and other lenders. A $53 million bond issue was sold last year. This money was then made available to the banks for lending purposes.

The Mississippi Guarantee Student Loan Agency also operated through the Board of Trustees was established to improve the availability of funds in the state.

This is done by providing a guarantee of the loans to the lender, access to information and training as it relates to guaranteed student loans. More than $30 million in loans were guaranteed by the Guarantee Student Loan Agency last year.

Another loan program is the National Direct Student Loan which is administered by the colleges and universities and loaned $5 million last year.

A student can also receive money for college through student employment or a work study program. A student may earn $100 to $150 per month by working eight to fifteen hours a week.

An example of severe erosion. This wash-out is on Delta farmland under cultivation.

Erosion costs farmers $80 per acre per year

If a man were to walk up to a Mississippi farmer, jab a pistol into his ribs, and demand $80 for each and every acre he owned, chances are the farmer would object.

Yet, that's exactly what is happening to farmers because of erosion. Each year the average acre of farm land loses $80 worth of topsoil to erosion.

Erosion is the washing away of that precious top layer of soil that grows all our food and fiber. The process is especially noticeable after a rain. Mud means erosion and rivers full of mud represent tons of valuable topsoil lost forever.

Mississippi is the third greatest victim of erosion in the United States, trailing only Tennessee and Missouri. Of the state's 82 counties, 51 lose between 10 and 33 tons of top soil per acre each year. In other counties the losses range from two to 10 tons per acre.

Dramatic wash-outs and gullies yell out, but small areas of erosion go quietly unnoticed all across the state. Experts estimate the annual loss to erosion in Mississippi at nearly 1 million tons.

This loss is felt by land owners and non-land owners alike. It is reflected in the expense of producing food, and it is reflected in the cost of food and goods in the store.

Call your County Extension Office or your Soil Conservation Office and find out what you can do to help stop erosion.

VALUE OF TERRACES—The slope of the land on Julius Holley's farm shown from the top of a terrace shows the value of the structure in reducing erosion on sloping soils.

Teacher education program

Officials of the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) recently extended accreditation of all programs offered by The University of Mississippi School of Education.

The extension approves the programs at all levels through September, 1988, thereby amounting to a full 10 years of accreditation.

Dr. S. A. Moorhead, dean of the Ole Miss education school, explained that NCATE, the one national agency approved for accrediting teacher education programs, formerly utilized a 10 year accreditation period, but reduced the standard coverage to seven years several years ago.

The revised plan requires an interim visit by a small NCATE team at the five-year point to review programs and make a report to the council.

"The interim team could either recommend a full-scale visit at the end of the seven-year period or could recommend the immediate extension of coverage, adding three years of coverage for a total of 10 full years," he said.

When extension is granted the council will schedule a full-scale visit sometime during the 10th year.

The last visit to Ole Miss occurred during the 1977-78 school year. "We had our interim visit in early March," Dean Moorhead said. "The visiting committee gave us a good report and made a positive recommendation to the National Council."

"The Council accepted the recommendation and extended our accreditation during its June meeting."

It is gratifying that the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education has extended the accreditation of our School of Education without a site visit," said Chancellor Porter L. Fortune Jr. "This extension is another example of the excellence in programming at Ole Miss in which we take pride."

Dr. Moorhead said Ole Miss programs have been accredited by the Council since its inception, with the doctoral program being the first in the state to receive national accreditation.

"Maintaining our accreditation means that students we graduate can be certified almost immediately in a number of states without going through a separate process," Dean Moorhead explained. "Some states will require students to go back to take courses which may be lacking because they didn't complete an NCATE program."

ETV Brief

CATFISH INDUSTRY

An update on Mississippi's catfish industry will be telecast on "Farmweek" at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Aug. 29, on Mississippi ETV.

The prospects for catfish producers have brightened for the first time in about two years so that almost all of them can show a slight profit. Leaders in this agribusiness explain why on the program.

Weather forecasts, farm news, market reports and analyses, production tips and notification of events of interest to farmers are included on each "Farmweek" edition. The series is co-produced by Mississippi ETV and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"A MAN FOR ALL AGES"

Our youth need and deserve better educational opportunities. Not only should the basics be taught, but also computer literacy and technical skills. I will be dedicated to work for improvements in education.

Our adults need and want jobs that will enable them to earn a decent income. Because a healthier business environment benefits all, I will support legislation that will be beneficial to our existing businesses and industries as well as attract new employment opportunities for the unemployed.

Our senior citizens need security. Many of these people are often the victims of time and suffer the most in cost of living increases. All legislation should consider the impact on the financial and personal needs of our elderly. I will stay informed of senior citizens' problems and protect their interests.

Youth, adults, and senior citizens join with me to improve District 106 and our great state of Mississippi....vote August 23.

THANK YOU

I want to take this opportunity to thank my friends who voted for me in my campaign for Sheriff of Hancock County.

To those who saw fit to cast their vote for my opponent, I have not before, nor do I hold malice or hard feelings toward you, but respect your right to cast your vote as you saw fit.

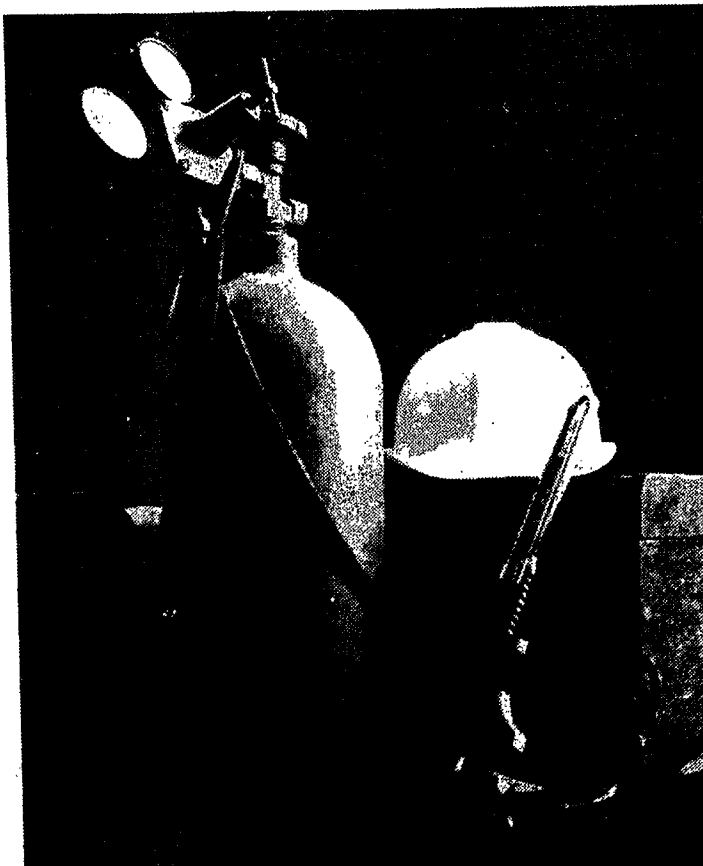

I have enjoyed working with and serving the people of Hancock County by serving as City Commissioner of the City of Bay St. Louis, Miss., for 7 years, Sheriff and Tax Collector for 8 years when job was combined and 8 more years as Sheriff when the job was separated making a total of 23 years as an elected official.

My father the late Sylvan J. Ladner, Sr., served the City of Bay St. Louis, Miss., as City Secretary and City Commissioner for 17 years. This makes a total of 40 years served by my father and I in an elected position.

I would also like to take this opportunity to advise the people of Hancock County, even though I am not in politics, if I am ever able to help them with some of their problems I want them to contact me and I will try to assist them in any way that I can.

THANKS TO ALL AND GOD BLESS YOU.

what good is skilled labor if nobody wants your skill...

Businesses can't hire you if they don't have enough jobs.

The best way to reduce Mississippi's unemployment is to assist businesses that want to expand and businesses considering moving here. More jobs mean more income for Mississippians, more money for local store owners, and more tax dollars for the state. The tax dollars can then be used to improve the quality of life for all Mississippians.

CANCER Answerline

QUESTION: Is there any new evidence that cancer is caused by the environment?

ANSWERline: Most cancer causes in the United States are believed to be environmentally related: that is, associated in some way with our physical surroundings, personal habits or life-styles. Some environmental causes of cancer are well known. About 25 percent of all cancers are directly related to the use of tobacco, either alone or in conjunction with excessive use of alcohol. Occupational hazards, although associated with only a small percentage of cancers, are under close surveillance. Virtually every major chemical and other substance in the workplace presumed to be a health hazard is under investigation. Each study, however, can require years and hundreds of thousands of dollars to complete. Diet also is suspected as an important element in cancer risk. However, dietary factors are difficult to study, and so far, the evidence is not conclusive.

QUESTION: Is the American Cancer Society studying the relationship of the environment to cancer?

ANSWERline: Yes. The largest cancer study in American history is now under way with more than one million persons participating to determine what factors in the environment, life-styles, habits and other considerations have to do with cancer in humans. The project, "Cancer Prevention Study II," will take about six years to complete.

QUESTION: What is cancer quackery?

ANSWERline: Cancer quackery is the practice and promotion of unproven methods of cancer management. These methods are promoted and sold for prevention, diagnosis, or treatment of cancer despite the fact that they are not proven nor recommended for current use based on careful review by scientists and clinicians. Unproven methods are promoted for general public use without the necessary evidence demonstrating that they are both safe and effective. There are many varieties of drugs, diets, devices and machines, and self-induced healing promoted for cancer management that are unproven.

A serious danger of unproven methods is that cancer patients can waste precious time undergoing worthless treatments; time during which conventional and established treatments could be helping the patient.

Proponents of unproven methods characteristically avoid scientific methods, facilities, or associates. Often they keep their methods a secret and do not publish in reputable journals. Instead, they resort to the promotion and marketing of their methods in the popular press and by testimonials. They may have any of numerous titles and degrees which are easily obtained or bought. Some proponents of unproven methods are physicians or other doctors practicing outside their area of competence.

QUESTION: What is precancerous lesion?

ANSWERline: Precancerous lesions are abnormal cellular changes that may become malignant if not properly treated. Examples are red or white patches in the mouth, scaly or dry itchy patches of skin, moles subject to chronic irritation.

Why we should elect MASON SHELBY State Auditor of Public Accounts

Mason Shelby... candidate for State Auditor of Public Accounts is concerned about several things in this campaign... first... the State Auditor's post is not, and should not, become a staging arena for people who have their eyes on higher office.

The State Auditor's office should, and I would recommend to the Legislature, be held only by a QUALIFIED degreed accountant with audit experience. The auditing of government accounts should not be entrusted to just anyone who walks in off the street and pays his money to qualify.

The State Auditor of Public Accounts... like the position of Attorney General... should be held by a person qualified in the field. We now face the position of an individual seeking this office who has no accounting background... either through training or experience.

I have worked for nearly thirty years in the audit field and have an accounting degree. Yet, I find myself facing an opponent who is untrained in this field.

I fail to understand how anyone without accounting qualifications can come in and manage an office which has 130 CPAs and graduate accountants and is responsible for auditing public officials and agencies which administer millions of dollars.

A non-accountant will not be able to control nor manage the department. He would be a paper shuffler, watching others do accounting work.

The State Auditor of Public Account's position should not be used as a political stepping stone.

The recent session of the Legislature authorized additional, and, I might add, badly needed audit staff.

Qualified personnel will be hired for these positions and I feel comfortable in telling you that audits of government agencies will be updated and handled more rapidly as a result of these additional personnel.

We have known for some time that the audit department staffing was not at the level to handle the workload statewide that we now face.

That situation was addressed before this campaign began. It's something that we have been telling the Legislature for years.

Fortunately, they listened and the hiring process has begun. We will bring all the audits up to date, but we will also handle these audits in a professional manner.

All audits conducted by my staff will be according to approved accounting procedures and no shortcuts or other methods will be employed.

Every audit will be thorough and complete. No stone will be left unturned and no discrepancy will be overlooked.

Public funds must be spent in the manner authorized by law. The State Department of Audit does not make the laws... it merely audits the books to make sure the money is spent according to the law.

I have devoted years to learning Mississippi law concerning municipalities, counties and state government. I am recognized as an authority on this subject.

During recent months, we have recovered over one million dollars of funds that we felt were not properly accounted for. Recent charges that we have not been able to complete audits on time are only half-truths... that statement ignores the fact that auditing is a complex business and a proper audit demands time and staff.

The State Department of Audit has done a commendable job with the number of personnel at its command. Political double-talk, by a lawyer who wants to be State Auditor so he can move on to higher offices is garbage.

Action by an accountant with auditing experience translates into making sure that your tax dollars are spent in accordance with the law.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

By Shawn Murphy

MINISTER, BAY ST. LOUIS CHURCH OF CHRIST

"What shall we conclude then? Are we any better? Not at all! We have already made the charge that Jews and Gentiles alike are all under sin. As it is written: There is no one righteous, not even one; there is no one who understands, no one who seeks God. All have turned away, they have together become worthless; there is no one who does good, not even one... all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God."

(Romans 3:9-12:23)

Will you admit that with me that we are not righteous in and of our own selves? That no matter how many good deeds we do, how many Lord's suppers we take that we are in no way to be considered as righteous apart from God?

So often we get all cleaned up for church. You know, we put on our fanciest clothes. Dress shirts, ties, three piece suits, shiny shoes and we head out for church looking like we just stepped off the set of the P.T.L. Club! Now there is nothing necessarily wrong with wearing nice clothes to church. The point is that we get to think more highly of ourselves than we ought sometimes.

An if God had ever thought for a moment that three piece suits would help us to be more righteous then I'm convinced that He would have handed them out at baptism!

You see the really significant part of Romans 3:23,24 is the part that says, "and are justified freely by his grace through the redemption that came by Christ Jesus." No one earns it by being "good enough"! As the song goes, "What can wash away my sin? Nothing but the blood of Jesus!"

"O Lord, would you please help us to be honest with ourselves. Help us to see our own sinfulness. Help us to humble ourselves and to recognize our need for your grace and mercy. Forgive us when we start thinking too highly for our own goodness. For none of us dare go before your throne seeking justice, but rather pardon, forgiveness, grace and mercy. This is our greatest need and our heart's desire...through Jesus we pray. Amen."

Methodist Assembly plans welcome for new director

Gulfside Assembly Center's annual reunion weekend Aug. 26-28 will include investiture of the Waveland institutions new executive director, Dr. Warren G. Booker, Jr.

"The weekend will provide opportunities for worship, study and fellowship," Booker said.

Program theme will be 'Gulfside: Toward Becoming An Oasis of Hope for Human Renewal'.

Registration at the Methodist facility bordering Buccaneer State Park will begin at noon Friday.

Adult cost for two night, five meals and banquet is $50; for high school and college students, $30 including banquet.

The program will include greetings from Bay St. Louis and Waveland city officials; greetings from denominations of the Wesleyan tradition; formal investiture services for Booker; Bible study led by Dr. Charles Copher; music by Waveland, Gulfport and New Orleans chbirs; "Think Tank" led by Booker; special worship services; dinner on the grounds; sightseeing tours of the Gulf coast area; swimming and other recreational activities.

For information call Booker at 467-4909.

of Latter-Day Saints

By Patty Baldree
Information Director

The Gulfport Stake of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will host a free open house Friday at its Chapel at 870 Forrest Avenue, Biloxi.

Beginning at 7 p.m., several booths and displays will be open for public viewing. The displays are designed to introduce various programs sponsored by The Church such as: Family Home Evening, Genealogy and Temple Work, Emergency Preparedness, Relief Society, and other general activities.

DR. WARREN BOOKER

of Black Catholic tradition and how these traditions are incorporated into the Sunday liturgy.

Program, entitled "Roots of Worship," will begin at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 2. It ends after lunch on that Sunday. Cost is $40 for overnight and $15 for commuters. Meals are included. For reservation, call Seminary, 467-9837.

Our second collection next week will be for the Extension Society which gives considerable help to our diocese for building mission churches. Please be generous.

MASS SCHEDULE
Sunday, 7 and 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. (No 6 p.m. Mass today).
Daily, Monday through Saturday at 6:30 a.m.

Saturday (Vigil) at 6 p.m.
Mother of Perpetual Help Novena at beginning of Tuesday Mass.
Confessions are heard half-hour before weekend Masses and upon request.

The Waveland Ward (congregation) will be responsible for the Family Home Evening booth.

At 8 p.m., C. Max Caldwell, new president of the Baton Rouge Louisiana Mission, will be guest speaker.

The program will be conducted by Bernard Ramakis of Bay St. Louis.

Ramakis, Waveland Ward mission leader and one of the presidents of the Gulfport Stake Seventies Quorum, said that this open house will be "an ideal opportunity for the public to become acquainted with the Latter-day Saint way of life and to have any questions answered regarding this Christian religion."

Light refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the event.

St. Rose de Lima

Catholic Church

Parish News

By Fr. B.C. Keller

Our every act of worship proclaims a central truth: we are God's sons and daughters. We do not know fully what that will mean. Even now, because we continue to sin, we need divine discipline in our lives.

We wish to congratulate Sister Lauren on the 25th anniversary of her Vow Profession. A Jubilee Mass will be celebrated today at 9 a.m. We feel privileged to have had the last of her silver years of service here at St. Rose. We anticipate many years of service leading to her golden jubilee. A reception will be held in the cafeteria after Mass.

Parishioners are invited to have a family picnic dinner on our school grounds beginning at noon. Games for young and old are scheduled for the afternoon. There will be no evening Mass today.

Kindly remember in your prayers Alfred Adolph and Bernard Maurice who were buried from St. Rose this past week.

The William Tate Jr. family wishes to express its deepest appreciation for the many signs of sympathy extended during its time of bereavement.

We wish to thank Harold Wilkerson and Philip Williams for their many hours of tireless labor in the construction of our church ramp. We are sure that the handicapped parishioners appreciate this aid for their attending church.

St. Rose Catholic Youth Organization will have its first meeting of the school year tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. the Little People Choir will practice; the Gospel Choir, at 6:30 p.m.

The Inquiry Class will meet on Wednesday at 7 p.m. in hall behind school.

St. Rose Alumni Association will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in rectory.

Parishioners are invited to the first profession of vows of eight novices at the Seminary chapel this Saturday at 10 a.m. Brother Dennis Newton will profess perpetual vows at that time.

Parishioners are invited to join in a picnic dinner on the grounds of Gulfside Methodist Assembly in Waveland on Saturday afternoon. Bring all the potato salad and ribs you desire. Formal investiture of Rev. Warren Booker Jr. as executive director will take place at 5 p.m. in the chapel.

Parishioners are invited to attend a Liturgy Workshop at the Seminary on the weekend of Sept. 2. Father Clifton Labbe, SVD and Miss Vinetta Boyd will explore the origins

Superintendent lists school calendar

Leroy Lizana, superintendent of Pass Christian Municipal Separate Schools, reports registration of all students entering Kindergarten or the first grade at the Delisle Elementary School or Pass Christian Elementary School will be conducted Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Lizana noted that parents or guardians must accompany the students to the schools for registration.

All students being presented for enrollment must have an official certified birth certificate bearing a state file number.

State law requires that all students enrolling in first grade must be six years of age on or before September 1, 1983.

Kindergarten enrollees must be five before September 1, 1983.

In addition to the birth certificate, all students must have a health certificate that was issued by the county health department or a physician. The health certificate will certify that the child is free of communicable diseases.

Those students who have a blue card immunization record on file in the school office will not be issued new cards by the health department for the 1983-84 school term.

Parents are urged to check the school offices prior to the opening date to ascertain if their child's record is on file.

New students enrolling in grades 2-4 may report for registration at the Delisle Elementary or Pass Christian Elementary Schools on any day this week, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

New students in grades 5-12 should report to Pass Christian Middle or High Schools during the same hours.

The first day for the 1983-84 school term will be Friday.

Lizana indicated that regular class schedules will be observed on that day.

All district cafeterias will be operating and the school buses will operate to transport all students who live one mile or more from the attendance center where enrolled.

Parents desiring additional information relative to the opening of school should contact the school office. All administrative personnel are on duty.

The 1983-84 school calendar for the Pass Christian Schools begins on August 26, and ends on May 29, 1984.

The calendar includes 177 teaching days. The school year is divided into four academic nine week terms.

Semester examinations are scheduled for January 11, 12, 13, and final examinations are scheduled for May 25, 28, 29.

The last working day for teachers is May 31, 1984.

The school district will observe the following holiday schedule: September 5, Labor Day; November 24-25, Thanksgiving; December 19-30, Christmas; January 1, New Year's Day; March 5 and 6, Mardi Gras; April 16-19, Spring Holidays; and April 20, Good Friday.

Classes will be dismissed at 1:00 p.m. on November 23 prior to Thanksgiving and December 16, prior to Christmas Holidays.

High school graduation is scheduled for Friday, May 25, 1984.

The school district has scheduled eight districtwide inservice days for teachers throughout the school year.

There will be an early dismissal for students on inservice workshop days.

Classes are scheduled to be dismissed at 1 p.m. at Pass Christian Elementary and Delisle Elementary; 1:15 p.m. at Pass Middle School and approximately 1:30 p.m. at Pass Christian High School on the following dates during the 1983-84 school term: August 29, 30, September 1, 2; October 4; February 9; and February 21.

ON BORROWED TIME—A compassionate member of the Bay-Waveland Humane Society rescued this adorable mixed-breed shaggy dog from extermination Friday at the Hancock County Animal Shelter in Waveland. But the conscientious humane society member can house the dog for just a few days and then the dog must be returned to the shelter for extermination. The small female dog is named Cookie and is available free to a good home with a fenced yard by telephoning 467-0475. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

TIMBERLINE

By David Watts
Hancock County Forester

Although no serious outbreaks of Southern Pine Beetles have been reported in Hancock County they are active in other parts of the State, and could become active here as the Summer moves on. We need to keep a sharp eye out for them.

The first signs of an attack are usually faded foliage and yellowish-white clumps of resin, shaped like tiny crawfish mounds, clinging to the bark of pine trees.

Due to the unusually cool, damp weather we had this Spring, the fading of needles on infested trees may have been retarded, causing an infestation to go unnoticed for a longer time than usual.

Landowners should walk through their pine timberstands at regular intervals this Summer, looking for signs of bark beetle attacks. If you think your timber is infested with these, or any other insect pests, contact us and we'll check it out for you. We'll also help you get your damaged timber salvaged to control the outbreak.

The timber market has picked up considerably in recent months and our privately owned pine timber is again increasing sharply in value.

You and Your Pet

BY MARTY CHAMBERS, MS

CANINE OBESITY

Is fido bulging due to over-indulging?

Many dog-owners have no inkling that their dog is indeed overweight. If your dog is just right, chances are you will think she is underweight, because 'just right' means barely enough to cover the bones (ribs, hip bones, spine) so that their outlines cannot be seen through the skin.

Don't be fooled by a "fat" stomach if ribs and other bones are plainly visible—this combination indicates a severe infestation of intestinal worms, requiring immediate attention by a veterinarian.

In the case of a long-haired dog, appearances can be deceiving, and you may be able to judge whether your dog is over- or underweight by how she looks when wet or by feeling the rib cage with your fingertips—if you can't feel the ribs at all, it's time to go on a diet.

Obesity is uncomfortable and unhealthy for your dog. Excess fat puts a strain on your dog's heart and can lead to high blood pressure and heart trouble.

Obesity can bring out or aggravate diabetes; it can cause or aggravate back problems; it makes arthritis and other bone and joint problems more painful; it is likely to shorten your dog's life.

As your dog puts on extra pounds, more effort is required for her to walk and run. Also, she will suffer more from hot weather.

If your dog fits into the overweight category, the solution lies in four easy steps:

(1) Limit the amount of between-meal snacks, and avoid sweets—one scoop of ice cream for a 12-pound canine being about equivalent to 10 scoops for a 120-pound human being.

(2) Provide more exercise. A dog left to her own resources often will not find enough motivation to burn up calories.

She'll love going for walks with you, and you will benefit, too.

When beginning a program of exercise for your dog, use a gradual approach, especially if she is more than a little overweight.

A dog accustomed to a sedentary life will uncomplainingly tax herself beyond reasonable limits if you ask it of her.

(3) Reduce the amount of food at each meal. Two meals a day are better than one, and the same amount of food divided into two meals is less fattening than if given in one meal.

Also, it is more humane to feed your dog twice a day, preferably with a snack in between.

(4) Try a low-calorie dog food, keeping in mind that this step may not work without the other steps or at least without steps (1) and (3).

Your vet has an excellent palatable low-calorie canned dog food called r/d, and he or she can advise you on the proper amount to feed your dog.

If you are that tender-hearted person who cannot resist those imploring eyes, consider this: it takes more love to say 'No.'

And if it seems that you are feeding your obese dog such a pitifully small amount already that you can hardly bear to feed her less, remember that she is a lot smaller and probably very much more sedentary than you.

Barring a physiological problem, such as a malfunctioning thyroid gland, if your dog is overweight, she is eating too much. If you suspect a health problem, check with your vet.

Cuevas reunion slated

A second meeting and reunion of Juan DeCuevas heirs is scheduled Saturday, Aug. 27 at 1:30 p.m. at Central Junior High, near Gulfport Library.

Heirs are Ladners, Ladners, Sauciers, Dubuissos, Morans, Dedeaux, Cuevases, Quaves, and any other descendants.

Some 300 heirs registered at a July 30 meeting.

"Let's double this number, it is very important for all heirs to be there and register," said Franklin J. Cuevas of Gulfport.

For information call Cuevas at 863-0589.
